ITALY ESTABLISHES ITS GOVERNMENT IN TRIPOLI

Rear Admiral Bordelino Made Governor of the Land Following Occupation of the City by Troops.

Rear Admiral Bordelino has been made Italian governor of Tripoli, following the military occupation of the city by men and guns from the Italian fleet. Today advices describe the Arabs of the vicinity as offering submission to the invaders while the defenders of the garrison have retired to the interior. News dispatches from Tripoli continue meager as the Italians are in a position to exercise strict censorship. Reports from the frontier indicate that there were more casualties during the bombardment than has been officially confirmed.

The only other development of importance today was a statement from Rome that Italy would assume the offensive in the Red Sea, attacking the seaports of Yemen if necessary, because fort of Hodediah had fired on an Italian cruiser.

Tripoli, Tripoli, Oct. 6.—The Italians have established a new government for Tripoli. Rear Admiral Boredolino has been appointed governor, Captain Calgni was made commandant of the forces disembarked by the Italian fleet. After Italian seamen had been landed and occupied Fort Sultania the chiefs of the Arab tribes adjacent to Tripoli went aboard the Italian steamship and gave their submission. They begged the Italians not to resume the bombardment.

The German consul as the senior member of the consular corps also visited the flagship and asked Vice Admiral Faravelli to assume responsibility for the preservation of public order and the protection of foreign residents in Tripoli, which had been abandoned by the Turkish troops. The admiral landed other detachments of sailors with guns, including quick fire pieces and occupied Tripoli in a military sense. This was acomplished without incident, and the appointment of a government followed. The German consul informed Vice Admiral Faravelli that during the shelling of the town no harm had been done to any European or damage to the property of Europeans.

WAR BULLETINS.

Saloniki, Turkey, Oct. 6.—The Turkish battles in Feth-I-Bulend held up and searched the British steamer Orichis, and finding forty barrels of powder on board, brought the vessel here as a prize of war.

London, Oct. 6.—The steamer Orichis seized by the Turks was bound from Smyrna for Constantinople, and her owners here cannot understand why she was taken as she was not going to an Italian port.

NEW ORLEANS SEETHING WITH STRIKE TROUBLES

Federal Troops May be Necessary to Enforce Injunctions Granted by the United States Courts.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 6.—Following an assault at 11 o'clock today upon a brick building in whic hare quartered 215 strike breakers, 800 ex-employes of the Illinois Central Railroad company and strike sympathizers withdrew upon the approach of police reserves and at noon declare da truce until 3:30 o'clock this fatternoon to permit the railroad company to comply with their demand to transport these men out of the city.

Practically the entire police reserve force of New Orleans is on guard in the railroad district today to prevent a repetition of rioting which yesterday and last night marked the Harriman lines strike in this city. The forces of railroad detectives and deputy United States marshals were also increased. Another day of rioting and bloodshed may force the governor to take a hand with the state guard or face the possibility of federal troops being used to enforce the injunction issued by the United States court. Eight strike breakers and a deputy United States marshal were wounded in yesterday's clashes with the strikers and sympathizers, and five of the former are in hospitals.

At least one of the men, Louis Lackauer, of Brooklyn, is believed to be fatally hurt.

Twelve strike breakers, a half dozen strikers and George Pence, a Roanoke railroad detective, are in jail charged with rioting. Pence and Arthur Copeland, also of Roanoke, are also accused of shooting Officer Roach, of Algiers.

An Illinois Central coach and two coaches on the Southern Pacific railroad were shot-riddled and stone-battered al-

WILL FIGHT THE TOBBACO TRUST

Independents Under Louis D. Brandeis to Oppose Reorganization.

PLANS GO FORWARD

New York, Oct. 6.—The organization of the independent dealers under the leadership of Attorney Louis D. Brandeis indicates a protracted struggle when public discussion of the American Tobacco company's reorganization plans begins next week before the United States circuit court. The attitude of the federal government is as yet uncertain. Attorneys for the tobacco trust, ordered dissolved by the supreme court, expected to submit their scheme to Attorney General Wickersham today, and there was a possibility, it was said, that the filing of the plan with the federal court might be delayed if it did not meet Mr. Wickersham's approval.

The plan has been discussed by the tobacco company's attorneys, the attorney general and the judges of the circuit court at several conferences and so far as its main points are concerned was considered generally satisfactory. The reports of the American Tobacco company were left to work out details, however.

They hoped to file the plans with the court late this afternoon, but a delay in receiving the copy from the printers necessitated postponing its submission to the attorney general until today and may necessitate a delay in the filing until tomorrow. The independents declare they will oppose any reorganization scheme that does not contemplate restoring the tobacco industry to the conditions that prevailed before there was any combination.

In behalf of the American Tobacco company it was said today that the plan for the division of the business into three new companies should not be considered the private idea of the trust alone but a common ground from which the company and the government attorneys might work. The corporation, it was said, regarded it as a compromise.

The outcome of the reorganization conferences is considered scarcely less important than the result of the anti-trust cases in the supreme court, because it will furnish a precedent for the treatment of other great combines of capital.

FORMERLY LIVED HERE.

Eugene Bonjour, of this city, has received word of the death of his father Lewis Bonjour, a former resident of Fort Wayne, which occurred Monday at Chesaning, Mich. The deceased resided in Fort Wayne until three years ago, and came here from Germany a good many years ago. He was 73 years of age and is survived by the following children: Louis, Ernest, Eugene and the Misses Sarah, Martha and Ernestine Bonjour.

ONE BORN EVERY MINUTE.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 6.—H. K. Stratton, a constable for Washington county, Ark., had arrested Jesse Wilson here after a chase of several weeks and was preparing to return him to Arkansas on a charge of grand larceny. The prisoner pleaded that the officer stay in town a day or two and have a good time and Stratton consented. They became such good friends that Wilson succeeded in borrowing five dollars from the constable. Later they went to bed for the night in the same room. Stratton went to sleep and Wilson stole his gun from beneath the officer's pillow. He then went through the constable's pockets and secured some cartridges and the remainder of Stratton's money and departed by way of a back window. The police have been asked by Stratton to locate his quondam prisoner.

FORT WAYNE MEN RETURN FROM FLOOD-SWEPT AUSTIN

E. J. Longfield, C. W. Porter and M. H. Ankenbruck Saw Scenes of Devastation in Pennsylvania Town.

At least three Fort Wayne men have witnessed the scenes of horror at Austin, Pa., where last Saturday afternoon practically the entire city was swept away by flood following the breaking of the pulp mills dam. They are E. J. Longfield, Attorney C. W. Porter and M. H. Ankenbruck.

Mr. Porter and Mr. Ankenbruck were at Smithport, Pa., as witnesses in a case in court. They returned home last night. Mr. Longfield was at St. Mary's, Pa., attending the funeral of a relative, and arrived in the city at noon today. Being within comparatively short distance of the scene of the disaster, the Fort Wayne men managed to run the blockade and get into the ruined town.

Scene Beggars Description.

"The scene utterly beggars description," said Mr. Porter today. "The ruin is complete along a great pathway from 600 to 800 feet in width through what was the center of the little city. Scarcely a business house is left standing, and upon the roof of the only two-story brick business building that remains the flood waters have deposited mud to a depth of three inches.

"While food is being hauled in as rapidly as possible, the supply is still inadequate, and the survivors lack places of shelter. One big residence has been transformed into a commissary department, and here the survivors come with their orders and receive their food supplies daily. Another big building is serving as a temporary morgue.

"A force of several hundred men is at work delving into the ruins for bodies and burning the debris as fast as it is taken out. Yet when we left Austin Wednesday night one could scarcely see that any progress had been made. I have no doubt that scores of bodies are still in the mountains of ruins, and many of them may never be found, for they told me bodies were being found down the river fifty miles distant."

Mr. Porter secured a number of photographs which tell the graphic story of the catastrophe, and he also brought home with him a fragment of the concrete dam which caused the disaster when it gave way before the immense volume of water.

Got in as Undertakers.

Mr. Ankenbruck says that he and Mr. Porter were able to get through the strong guard lines in the guise of undertakers, accompanying a funeral director whose acquaintance they made in one of the neighboring towns.

"The state constabulary is in complete control of the only line of railroad running into Austin," said he, "and they will permit no passengers to be taken there save men in charge of food supplies, doctors, nurses, undertakers, newspaper men and others whose business requires their presence. The object has been to keep out possible pillagers and other undesirable characters."

Mr. Ankenbruck believes that unless the force of workmen is greatly increased it will require three months to clear away the debris and determine accurately the number of persons who lost life in the disaster.

Rush to Stricken City.

Mr. Longfield says the rush to the stricken city was little short of a panic. With the railroads in the control of the state police, people traveled by auto, in wagons an afoot to reach Austin, and in his own case a day and a half was required to travel thethirty-seven miles between St. Mary's and Austin. From Keating Summit, six miles away, Mr. Longfield and his friends started to walk to Austin. Half way of the distance they employed a farmer to carry them in his wagon at a rate of $5 apiece for the remaining few miles.

As is the case with other witnesses, Mr. Longfield says no adequate description of the horror can be given in words. He spent Monday and Tuesday in Austin, and is of the opinion that the death list will not exceed 125. So fearful was the force of the flood-driven wreckage as it swept over the town that buildings were reduced to kindling wood, trees were uprooted and even cement sidewalks were utterly obliterated. Mr. Longfield says it is even difficult to locate the sites of the various buildings, for cellars and basements are so filled that the entire town-site is one wide-level waste, with street lines obliterated.

BULGARIA IS NEUTRAL.

Constantinople, Oct. 6.—The Bulgarian minister today conveyed to the porte the assurance of the neutrality of Bulgaria and also denied the report of a military mobilization in the kingdom. The government originally intended to entrust the protection of Turks in Italy to the United States, but later left this matter to Germany.

BY THE LATE MR. SINBAD.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Fred Schroeder, captain of the 400-ton schooner Elviera, brought a marvelous story from Arctic waters. As his vessel neared Bosgoslave he said a burst of vapor arose above the island, dust rained on the sea and as the vapor cleared new land was in sight.

"When it cooled off," said Schroeder, "there were four new islands. We could see them distinctly, but they quivered in such a strange way that we did not attempt to approach them."

DAM GOES AND A FLOOD IS RAGING

People Along Black River in Wisconsin Are in Grave Peril.

PEOPLE ARE WARNED

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 6.—At 2 o'clock the Hotel Tremont, a three-story building the leading hotel in Black River Falls, and a half dozen other business buildings in which the principal business of the city were housed were washed away. They were undermined and collapsed. This information has just been received here over privte wire of the Wisconsin Telegraph company on a roundabout route.

Eight hundred feet of the Green Bay and Western railroad tracks at Hatfield have been washed out, according to a report received at the offices of the company here. Traffic will be suspended over the main line of the road for days.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct 6.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Hatfield says:

"The west wing of the Hatfield dam has gone out and the water is rising rapidly. Residents are moving from the lowlands and great excitement prevails. The flood is the biggest in the history of the valley and no one can anticipate how great will be the damage. So far the dam and wings at Black River Falls are intact."

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 6.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Black River Falls, Wis., late this afternoon, says:

"The east side of Water street has been swept away by the current passing around the west side of the concrete dam. The soft ground on which the business portion of the town stands is being cut away and there is no telling what the result of continuous flooding will be.

"Buildings are being undermined and swept down the current, but as far as can be learned, there has as yet been no loss of life."

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 6.—Breaks have occurred in both the upper and lower dams of the La Crosse Water Power company at Hatfield on the Black river, 60 miles northeast of here, and the whole property, valued at $5,000,000, is menaced.

A large section, including the city of Black River Falls, is under water, as is a great district in the Black river valley.

Breaks in the dams followed the accumulation of water following a week's rain which filled the reservoirs to an extent never before known.

Early today the water broke through the embankment at the west side of the upper dam and later on the west side of the lower dam. The dam proper is still holding, but the waters have washed around it and are pouring through in tremendous volumes.

At noon the telephone operator at Black River Falls, a city of 2,000 people ten miles below Hatfield, reported that water was surrounding the telephone building, that people were moving out of houses in the lower part of town and that it was dangerous to remain longer. Thereafter it was impossible to reach Black River Falls by telephone. Relief parties are being hastily organized and scouts are warning the farmers to take to the highlands.

LOSS OF LIFE FEARED.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 6.—A special to the Dispatch from LaCrosse, Wis., says:

Several farm houses, floating down stream in the flood around the west end of the Hatfield main power dam and sending water a depth of eleven feet over the top, struck and tore away the bridge at Black Falls at noon today. The families that had occupied these houses, it is feared, have perished. Hatfield is under water, but it is thought that no lives have been lost.

END OF DAM GOES OUT.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 6.—Telephone advices just received at the offices of the La Grosse Water Power company say that the west end of the main dam at Hatfield went out at 10:30 o'clock. The dam is a solid concrete structure sixty feet high and one hundred feet deep at the base. Three hundred men have been working desperately to check the flow.

LOSS WILL BE TREMENDOUS.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 6.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Black River Falls, says:

"Telephone advices from Dell's Dam, eighteen miles up the river, says the dam has gone out and the manager in charge says that nothing can save the Hatfield dam."

The water at this point is the highest in years and if the Hatfield dam is swept away the loss will be tremendous. The people are panic stricken and they have been notified to move from the lower level of the city.

J. M. STUDEBAKER ILL.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 6.—J. M. Studebaker, Sr., multi-millionaire vehicle manufacturer and the surviving member of the original Studebaker family, is seriously ill at his home in this city. He contracted a severe cold recently and has been confined to his home for several days.

WM. E. CURTIS DIES SUDDENLY

Famous Newspaper Writer [illegible] in Fort Wayne in Boyhood.

EXPIRES IN HOTEL

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—William E. Curtis, the widely known newspaper correspondent, dropped dead in his room at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel here at 8 o'clock last night from apoplexy. Three physicians were rushed to his room by the management, but he was dead before any of them arrived, though two of them were in the hotel at the time.

Mr. Curtis, accompanied by Mrs. Curtis, arrived at the Bellevue-Stratford at noon yesterday from Washington. They had luncheon early, and after a short time outside the hotel retired to their apartment. At 8 o'clock Mrs. Curtis had dressed for dinner. When Mr. Curtis entered he started to dress, and it was while he was standing in the bedroom of the apartment that he was stricken and fell to the floor.

Mrs. Curtis said that her husband had not been suffering from illness daring the day, and that before he was stricken had given her no warning. They had been touring Canada for several months and Mr. Curtis was gathering material for special newspaper articles. The Curtis home is in Washington.

Mr. Curtis was born in Akron, Ohio, Nov. 5, 1850, and was graduated from the Western Reserve college in 1871. He began his newspaper career in Chicago with the Inter Ocean in 1873, and became political editor of that paper in 1887. Then he became Washington correspondent for the Chicago Record Herald, winning a national reputation as a writer. In recent years he had traveled extensively, visiting almost every civilized country on earth, and for twenty-five years had supplied two columns of newspaper matter daily in addition to writing many books of travel.

One of the incidents of his newspaper career which is still remembered was his interview with the famous James boys while detectives were attempting to capture the desperadoes. Curtis found the hiding place of the bandits in Missouri, persuaded Jesse James into giving him an interview and printed it in his newspaper, but kept faith with the desperadoes and never disclosed the rendezvous of the bandits.

LIVED IN FORT WAYNE.

Seven Years of Curtis' Boyhood Were Spent in This City.

Seven years of William E. Curtis' boyhood were spent in Fort Wayne, his father, Rev. Elroy Curtis, having been at that time pastor of the Second (now Westminster) Presbyterian church. The Curtis family came to Fort Wayne in 1854, while the son was four years of age, and lived in this city until 1861. Very few persons who were members of the Second church in those days are still living, but the fact that the future journalist lived here as a boy is well established. So far as is known he never visited Fort Wayne after the removal of the family from the city, but some years ago in a conversation with Mrs. Hugh McCulloch, in Washington, Mr. Curtis recalled the fact that his childhood was spent here.

CAME TO COUNTY FIFTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Matilda Goeglein is Dead at Advanced Age of 84 Years.

PIONEER IS NO MORE

Mrs. Matilda Goeglein, widow of the late Jacob Goeglein, died this noon at her home, five miles east of Fort Wayne, on the Maysville road, at the age of 84 years. Death was due to senility.

The deceased was born in Germany, and came to this country over half a century ago, settling in Pomeroy, O. Fifty years ago she removed to Allen county with her husband, settling on the farm where her death occurred, and which has been her residence continuously since she came to the county. Her husband preceded her in death about fifteen years ago. The following children survive: Jacob, Abraham, Henry, William, Valentine and Daniel Goeglein, all of this county, and Christian Goeglein, of Seward, Neb., Mary Burkhart, Elizabeth Bishop and Mrs. Sophia Prange, all of this city. Fifty-two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Eldridge—Funeral services for Miss Lottie Eldridge, whose death occurred at Michael, North Dakota, will be held from the residence of a sister, Mrs. F. E. Stoneburner, 1016 Nelson street, at a time to be announced later. Miss Eldridge was a trained nurse, a graduate from Hope hospital, and removed to Dakota two years ago, taking up a homestead claim with her sister.

STATE WINS THE OPENING CLASH IN LIQUOR CASE

Judge O'Rourke Holds Good Affidavit on Which Raid Was Made at Driving Park Saloon.

In the circuit court today Judge O'Rourke overruled the motion to quash the affidavit and dismiss the search warrant in what is commonly known as the fair grounds blind tiger case and Prosecutor Thomas and Attorney T. E. Ellison won a decisive victory in the first legal clash with the liquor interests.

The judge spent most of yesterday going through the briefs submitted to him and reading the authorities cited and made announcement of his finding at the opening of court today. He did not deliver a written opinion, but simply announced that he thought the prosecutor acted within his authority in administering the oath to the affidavit on which the warrant was issued. He construed the proceeding as a civil one, but held that it was simply auxiliary to the criminal prosecution.

Attorneys representing Oliver Steward, Dan Clemens and the employes of the bar, who are all charged with keeping a blind tiger, notified the court they would take an appeal in the case and were given thirty days in which to file a bill of exceptions.

Mr. Thomas said today that he is content for the present with having won on the first attempt to overthrow the proceedings he instituted against the sale of liquor at the fair and that until both sides have had time to catch a breath he will not insist on trials. The fact that the appeal is taken will not delay the hearing in the circuit court.

That there are other legal technicalities to be fought out before the case is tried on its merits is a certainty, as every bit of ammunition to defeat the proceedings will be used up before the matter is submitted to a court or jury.

Attorneys interested in the case went to Auburn this afternoon to arrange the issues and fix a date for the trial of the appeal taken on behalf of the W. C. T. U. against the decision of the board of county commissioners in granting the license to Steward. This case will probably be tried before any are heard in the local courts.

TAFT IN WARM DEFENSE OF FEDERAL SUPREME COURT

President Shows Indignation in Speaking of the Critics of the Nation's Highest Tribunal.

Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 6.—In a speech before the chamber of commerce today President Taft bitterly assailed the critics of the supreme court and asserted anew his views of the relations of governments to business.

"I love judges and I love courts," said the president. "They are my ideals on earth and they typify what we shall meet afterward in heaven under a just God. And when a court is doing its duty, when it is trying to interpret the law as it ought to be, to have it condemned and attacked and its motive questioned for mere political purposes without any solid ground for attack, goes to my heart and I resent it with deep indignation."

Speaks With Much Feeling.

Mr. Taft spoke with far more feeling than he put into his Detroit and Waterloo speeches, but along the same lines. He said he had received many criticisms of the point, but as yet he had failed to receive an answer to his challenge to W. J. Bryan and other publicists to cite a single case of combination or restraint of trade which ought to be condemned and which would not be condemned under the supreme court's interpretation of the anti-trust law in the Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases.

"What distinguishes this country from any other one," said the president, "is the supreme court that we have in Washington, that often has stood between us and errors that might have been committed that would have been greatly injurious to this country, and to turn upon that court and to question its motives and attack it seems to me to lay the ax at the root of the tree of our civilization."

Two Great Decisions.

Mr. Taft referred to the supreme

A SPEEDY TRIAL FOR TRUST MEN

Wallpaper Magnates Will Be Brought at Once to the Bar.

FEDERAL TRUE BILLS

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 6.—A speedy trial of the four wallpaper manufacturers and four wallpaper jobbers, indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday is bound to result, as both District Attorney U. G. Denman, representing the government, and the counsel for those indicted are anxious to hurry matters along.

Counsel for the indicted parties have promised that they will be in court tomorrow to give bail. It probably will be fixed at $5,000 in each instance

Only one of the men, Jay B. Pearce, is from Cleveland. C. C. Aler will come from Columbus, Ohio; Norton Newcomb from St. Louis; Charles E. Maxwell from Chicago; Winfield A. Huppuch from Hudson Falls, N. Y.; George Tait from Glenns Falls, N. Y.; Robert F. Hobbsen from Hoboken, N. J., and John H. McCoy from York, Pa.

FOUR BALLOONS LAND.

Sparta, Wis., Oct. 6.—The ballon Buckeye, Lieut. F. P. Lahm, pilot, and J. H. Wade, jr., assistant, landed in a field ten miles north of here at 3 o'clock this morning. They alighted safely.

Austin, Minn., Oct. 6.—Balloon Berlin No. 1, Lieut. Leopold Vogt, pilot, and Lieut. Scholter, aide, landed on the Jacob Bishop farm, near Austin, at 10 o'clock today. The balloon left Kansas City at 5:15 yesterday.

Kansas City, Oct. 6.—The balloon Topeka II., landed at Dunnel, Minn., at 8:20 a. m. today, according to a message received by George M. Meyers, president of the Kansas City Aero club, from Frank M. Jacobs, pilot of the craft. The Topeka II. was a contestant for the Lahm cup.

Emmetsburg, Iowa, Oct. 6.—A blinding snow storm several thousand feet above the earth caused the balloon, America II., which sailed from Kansas City in the international race last night, to descend at a point four miles west of here at 1:30 o'clock this morning. When nearing the ground the balloon struck telegraph wires and was wrecked. Pilot W. F. Assman, and aide, Hulburt, es-

LIGHT PLANT FOR THE RUINED TOWN

Preparations Rushed for Equipment in Flood Wrecked City.

STRIKE OF ITALIANS

Austin, Pa., Oct. 6.—Before another 24 hours, it is expected that a temporary light plant will have ben established on the flats where once stood the greater portion of the village. Electrical engineers from Buffalo have inspected the site and have made a survey of the field to ascertain how large a plant was needed and last night the specifications were telegraphed to Buffalo with the expectation that shipment would be made today. The plant will be run with gasoline power. With this plant in operation the clearing of the wreckage will be pushed forward night and day. The relief workers have heretofore had to cease their labors at dark because of having no means of furnishing light.

One hundred more men arrived late last night and were today added to the crews that are now swarming over piles of debris at half a score of points.

There was a flash of labor trouble this morning when the Italian laborers at Costello were called to work. There are about 125 men on the job there and only about half a dozen started in, while the others gathered in groups and talked to their companions at work. Finally all threw down their picks, shovels and coke forks and presented their demands. The laborers assert that they were brought into work eight hours at $1.75 a day, whereas they complain they are compelled to work ten hours a day at $1.60.

OIL WELL YIELDS $2,340 A DAY.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The biggest petroleum gusher in this section since the days of the oil excitement here a score of years ago was brought in on the Newton Headly farm, near Bristoria. The well, which is the property of the Sheridan Oil company, of Waynesburg, started off at a 1,000-barrel a day rate, and is now making 1,800 barrels a day.

The strike has produced a decided sensation all through this section, and oil men are on the ground in an effort to get leases, for it is believed another big field, which will rival the old days, is about to be brought in

ANGOLA NEWS.

Angola, Ind., Oct. 4.—On October 9th, the day which has been set apart by Governor Marshall as fire prevention day, special attention will be paid by the school authorities to the removal of all debris and rubbish which in any way might cause fires. The chimneys will also be inspected and cleaned. Mr. Platt, the superintendent, had a fire drill Tuesday morning and the house was emptied in less than a minute.

Christian Science services will be held at the home of S. C. Stiefer Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject is: "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

Everything is being put in readiness for the "Great Steuben County Fair," and a record-breaking crowd is expected. The hopes of having an aeroplane exhibition here during the fair was given up when E. E. Croxton returned from Chicago, he having gone there for the purpose of securing one, but they would not sign the contract he wanted them to sign.

The Nat M. Bingham lectures, which were being held in the Methodist church, closed last night with the lecture, "The Grand Canyon in Arizona." These were high-class lectures, but they were not very well attended.

SECURED A GOOD PLACE FOR WIFE

Got Her a Job Where She Could Earn Her Board and Room.

THE COURT RECORDS

Ellen E. Rubin says that about all her husband ever did for her in a married life that extended from May 28 to Sept. 11, of this year, was to get her a job in a rooming house where she could earn her own board and for that reason she has asked the superior court to force Adam E. Rubin to support her.

Adam is a waiter at the Harmon restaurant and the owner is made a party to the suit so as to get hold of his wages. Mrs. Rubin says her husband told her he was a photographer and that after their marriage he took her on a honeymoon trip to see the sights of Payne, O., and that he stayed with his parents for three weeks without paying any board. When he came back to Fort Wayne he got a job as clerk in a store and then hubby got her one in a rooming house.

The case is aggravated by the fact that she is expecting the storks and for that reason is prevented from supporting herself. Thomas and Townsend are her attorneys.

To Dismiss Old Cases.

Judge O'Rourke has given out that he will call his civil docket on October 16, and will dismiss no cases in which no action has been taken for a year. Judge Vaple had a house cleaning yesterday in which he wiped the following cases off his records:

Anna vs. Edward Weddell, Myrtle vs. Noah Cottrell, Carrie vs. James McCormick, Edna vs. George Bellis, Emma vs. Elmer Doty, Addie vs. O. Dielm, John H. vs. Minnie Justice, Minnie vs. William H. Ellison, Mary Alice vs. Joseph Dews, George W. vs. Florence McPherson, Clara vs. John Percell, Alice vs. Elsworth Overly, Anna vs. Joseph Cole.

Bonjour Will Filed.

Under the will of Louis Bonjour all his property is left to his widow and she is to keep same in repair and reap all rents and income therefrom. After her death, the property does to his children—an Allen county farm to his son, Eugene, who is named as executor, provided he pays $200 to each of two other sons whose whereabouts are unknown, and $3,000 to a daughter, Mrs. Martha M. Evidence in Divorce.

Evidence was heard this afternoon in the superior court in the divorce suit of Emma Williams against William Williams. She charges among other things that he abandoned her and went away with Amanda McCafferty.

Gave a Cash Bond.

Herman Horstman today surrendered himself to the sheriff and gave a cash bond of $1,300 to insure his appearance in the circuit court when his cases are called. He was out under a real estate bond of $1,000 on a burglary charge, but a warrant charging him with petit larceny had not been served. Both charges grew out of wholesale chicken stealing with which he is charged.

WAS LOOKING FOR MONEY.

Thief Who Entered Crane Home Was Satisfied With Cash He Found.

A thief entered the home of George D. Crane, 1203 West Jefferson street, Thursday night and got about $12 in cash and made no effort to take any of the valuables that might have been had for the taking. Part of the money was taken from Mr. Crane's trousers which hung in a closet off his bedroom and the remainder was in Mrs. Crane's pocketbook on the dresser.

Mr. and Mrs. Crane slept through it all and did not miss the money until they arose this morning and found a window open through which they suppose the thief entered.

CITY HALL NOTES.

At the meeting of the board of public works last night the resolution for the opening of Fourth street was confirmed and the plat approved, but slight changes may be necessary. The property of Mrs. Mary Richards will have to be condemned or bought to make the improvement.

Complaint that Contractor Herman Tapp is holding up the work at the Broadway elevation because he is not rushing his retaining walls to completion. The concrete is down for one approach to the subway and the contractor is ready to start the other side, but until the piles and braces that must be kept there for the retaining wall are removed the paving under the tracks can not be finished.

Artusa attacked a Turkish gunboat and sank her. Turkey having taken the offensive in the Red sea where Italy had intended to remain on the defensive, the Artusa and the dispatch boat Staffetta and repair ship Volcano, all of which are armed, and the smaller war craft available have been ordered to chase the few old gunboats that Turkey has in the Red Sea and to attack the ports of Yemen if necessary.

FORBEARANCE IS URGED.

Cologne, Germany, Oct. 6.—The Cologne Gazette's correspondent at Constantinople reports that the German embassy there is urging forbearance on the part of the Turkish government in the matter of the expulsion of Italians.

ITALIANS LAND MARINES.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—Although the Italians landed marines at Tripoli it is understood here that mediation will not be accepted before the city has been occupied by the expedition from Italy, the first ship of which is due to sail for Tripoli tomorrow.

Germany in the meantime is endeavoring to restrain Turkey from taking any measures that might lessen the hope of successful mediation and has induced Turkey to withdraw the prohibition against the furnishing of coal for private steamers. This had seriously inconvenienced international shipping.

A correspondent telegraphing from Dehibat on the Tunisia frontier says:

"Six soldiers and six Jews were killed and five soldiers and one Jew wounded during the bombardment of Tripoli.

"The Europeans, of whom there are still 4,000 in Tripoli, were unharmed. The house of the interpreter of the German consulate was badly damaged, but the shells from the Italian fleet did comparatively slight damage in the city.

"The Moslems remained passive during the bombardment."

TAFT IN WARM DEFENSE OF FEDERAL SUPREME COURT

court's disposal of the Standard Oil and tobacco cases as "two great decisions."

"They were two of the greatest trusts that existed," he said, "and in the working out of the decree the court had to make a remedy. The Standard Oil company presented all the phases of illegality and criminality necessary to establish a monopoly at a time when they did not feel the necessity for concealing their methods or their motives. The tobacco organization made in anticipation of the operation law, helped out by the advice of cunning lawyers in order to avoid its operation.

"But against them both the decree of the supreme court has been pronounced."

Mr. Taft said it was unfortunate that the country had got into a condition that required a remedy like this. A remedy of any evil, he added, was bound to produce for a time not business disaster, but a difficult situation that might make business slow. But after the solution has been worked out he saw no reason why the country should not go on to greater and greater prosperity.

Has No Discretion; Must Enforce Law.

"To one in my place," said the president, "there is no discretion with reference to the trial of cases brought to the attention of the authorities. The prosecutions must go on. It is not for the executive to say he can withhold criminal prosecutions or any kind of prosecutions just to help business. Business must reform itself and these executive duties must be performed under the oath of office that I took and under the oath that those under me took.

"But when that part of the business community that thought that the anti-trust statute did not mean anything, understands that it is going to be enforced, then we may reach a solution that will enable the business community to settle down on a proper and legitimate basis. I hope the time is near at hand when we must get together for prosperity. We must eliminate, so far as we can, this desire to attack wealth earned by thrift and gathered together by foresight, attention and industry, because that is to set up a feeling that bodes no good for the result. When a man attempts that he ought to be marked by the patriots of the county who understand that he is attempting to use some disaster to the country to benefit himself.

Sees a Great Future.

"I believe we are going on to a greater future. If we had allowed these combinations to go on and develop the only remedy would have been to change by force the power thus concentrated in the hands of a few individuals of the state and then we should have had state socialism. It was the inevitable result of the movement toward trusts unless broken up.

"Now we can get back to competition. We must get back to competition as an elemnt in this country. If it is impossible then let us go to socialism, for there is no way between. I, for one, am not discouraged as yet in the hope that we may return to a legitimate and independent competition. I am an individualist and not a socialist.

"It is good times, it is prosperity," the president concluded, "when people are happy, when wages are good, when prices are normal, when the family has shoes and something to eat and the children go to school. Those are times when everybody is happy."

FRENCH LOOKING FOR NEW TROUBLE

Hoist Flag of Republic in Agadir and Found Protectorate.

ACTION IS DISAVOWED

Berlin, Oct. 6.—A group of Frenchmen hoisted a French flag over the fort at Agadir, Morocco, threatening grave international complications. It is announced that France had proclaimed a protectorate and that a French cruiser was enroute for Agadir. The French government immediately disavowed the action and as it is not represented at Agadir, instructed the French consul at Mogador to ask the Moroccan authorities to take measures to remove the flag and end the incident.

According to the latest advices the Frenchmen were defying the local caliph of Agadir, who on his own responsibility had ordered the French colors lowered, but it is expected that the Frenchmen will yield when they learn that their government has disavowed their act.

The caliph appealed to the commander of a German warship in the harbor but he refused to interfere. The French flag was planted on an ancient bastion dominating the town and which the over-zealous French patriots had occupied in the absence of the garrison. They fired a salute and sent word to the Germans to leave Agadir, which they declared, had become a French possession. The incident, according to the dispatches received here, created excitement in southern Morocco but the German foreign office is satisfied with the counter measures adopted by the French government.

INCREASE IN TAX LEVY.

Figures Given Out by County Auditor Show a Slight Advance.

Figures given out by County Auditor Brown show that the total in that part of Fort Wayne located in Wayne township is $.66 on the hundred, in Adams $2.68 and in Washington $2.78 an increase of six cents over last year.

The school city corporation has fixed its levey for 1912 at 60 cents on the hundred dollars and 65 cents on each poll. For special school the levy is 30 cents; for local tuition, 20 cents, and 15 cents on each poll; for library fund, 5 cents, and for school bond indebtedness, 15 cents. This is an increase of 1 cent in school taxes. The levy for all city government purposes is $1.12, an increase over last year, while the county tax of 41¾c is an increase of another cent. The township rates remain the same.

Shirley City has a tax rate larger than any portion of Fort Wayne. Its rate is $3.33 on the hundred dollars for all town, school, township, county and state purposes.

New Haven has a total rate of $2.70, which is 2 cents more than the rate in the city of Fort Wayne in Adams township. Monroeville's tax levy for 1912 is $2.61.

SUBMITTED FIRST DRAFT.

Architect Wing Has Tentative Plans for Y. W. C. A. Building.

Architect J. F. Wing submitted at a meeting of the building committee last evening his first sketches of tentative plans for the new building of the Young Women's Christian association. The plans incorporate many modifications of the desirable features observed by Mr. Wing and the committee in the recent tour of inspection, and were favorably considered at some length by the committee. Final action will not be taken regarding the plans until after the arrival of Miss Geary, the economic secretary, who comes next week to advise with the local association regarding its building project.

The central board of the Young Men's Christian association will hold its meeting next Monday evening in connection with the annual meeting of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. State Secretary E. E. Stacy will be present, and it is possible that plans for a Y. M. C. A. campaign will be considered at that time.

CONSIDERING PEACE PLANS.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—President Markham and Vice President Park, of the Illinois Central railroad conferred today on the proposal of Governor Noel, of Mississippi, to arrange a settlement of the strike of shopmen by arbitration. At noon President Markham announced that a reply had been sent to the governor's message, but refused to make their reply public until Governor Noel had acted on it.

Four more strikers returned to work at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central railroad company today. Everything was peaceful when the 500 shopmen reported for work. No strikers appeared near the plant during the early morning hours, although several hundred policemen still are on duty guarding the railroad company's property.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

BOOSTER FAIR A GREAT SUCCESS

Wabash Celebration Comes to an End—Great Crowd Visits the City.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 6.—The three days' booster celebration came to an end last night when the last feature of the program was carried out. A record-breaking crowd attended the evening's celebration and the streets were literally alive with sight-seers.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the industrial parade took place. A majority of the business houses were represented by unique floats and the parade was the cause of much laughter along its route. In the evening all of the free attractions gave double exhibitions, an excellent band concert was offered, and the fair ended in a blare of music and blaze of bright lights.

Wednesday night's crowd was larger than that of the preceding evening and the throngs of people were seemingly delighted with the list of free acts and the various displays. The stock parade was fine and the county's best specimens of horse flesh were in line. This part of the program was above expectations and more than made up for the small number of automobiles which appeared in line later in the day.

STABS SELF WITH KNIFE.

Aged Resident of Huntington in Serious Condition.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 6.—In using a pocketknife in paring an apple and falling in a faint while so engaged, Diedrick Sunderman, aged eighty-five, stabbed himself in the groin Wednesday afternoon at the Fred Bullerman home, 458 Wilkerson street. Several hours he was in a critical condition as a result of the loss of blood and the shock. The aged man had been in an unconscious state over an hour before found by Mr. Bullerman at 5:30. In his unconsciousness he was delirious. A wound an inch and a half wide and presumably the depth of the knife blade in length was inflicted.

Mr. Sunderman makes his home with the Bullerman family. He was alone in the house Wednesday afternoon. Owing to his age he is unable to eat apples except where he can scrape the fruit with a knife. He was so engaged that afternoon when stricken with a fainting spell. In some manner the knife blade struck him in the left groin as he fell and from this injury he nearly bled to death. The attending physician estimated he had lost over a pint of blood before the wound was closed.

HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 6.—The stockholders of the Decatur Motor Car company held a very important session Wednesday afternoon at which time the following board of directors was elected: M. E. Brackett, W. J. Vesey, M. Kirsch, L. A. Graham, L. W. Coppock, A. H. Barnard, J. S. Bowers, C. C. Schafer and John I. Taylor, of Boston. The board selected officers as follows: Mr. Brackett, president and general manager; Mr. Vesey, vice president; Mr. Kirsch, treasurer; Mr. Graham, secretary; Mr. Coppock, factory manager; Mr. Barnard, sales manager. The factory has before it a prosperous future and plans for the enlarging of the plant will probably be announced soon.

TWENTY-SEVEN ACCOUNTS.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 6.—Auburn's postal savings depository station, established in connection with the local postoffice on the 14th of August, has been in operation less than two months, but during that time 27 accounts have been opened.

During the month of September 10 new accounts were opened, which makes a total of 27 to date. Three accounts were closed, leaving 24 in force on the 30th of September. During the month 20 deposits were made, the total to date being 48.

Postmaster Zent announced that the total deposits of the local branch are $1,136.

AGED WOMAN EXPIRES.

South Milford, Ind., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Elizabeth Fink, aged 86 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Orris Cannon, in this town, at noon yesterday, following an illness of several weeks, death being due to apoplexy. The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lydia Lovett, of Stroh, and Mrs. Orris Cannon, of South Milford, with whom she had made her home for some time.

FARMER BADLY HURT.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 6.—Struck by the tongue of his wagon when one of the horses bolted as he was unhitching the team, Charles McHenry was knocked down and seriously injured at about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. One rib was fractured and internal injuries made it impossible to determine the outcome. The accident happened at his home near Majenica.

FIRST FLOOR COMPLETED.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 6.—The first floor to the new court house has been completed. It is composed of concrete and fireproof tile. The concrete is a mixture of a barrel of cement to a yard of sand and washed gravel, considerably stronger than the specifications call for, but Contractor Goodall did not care to take a chance on less cement. He preferred having it a little too strong than not strong enough.

AUBURN MISS WEDS.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 6.—Frank Stimmel, of Deshler, and Miss Anna Homsher, of this city, were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. F. F. Thornburg. The young couple left yesterday morning for Deshler, where they will remain for a short time, after which they will return to Auburn to stay for the winter.

CORN CELEBRATION ATTRACTS CROWDS

Governor of Michigan Delivers Address—Big Premium Offered.

Lagrange, Ind., Oct. 6.—With Corn School week attracting hundreds to this place, Lagrange yesterday presented a scene of lively festivities, including addresses by prominent speakers, an agricultural exhibit and all kinds of entertainment and amusement.

The center of Main street is one solid line of booths, while many concession men have been compelled to erect their tents on the side streets. The agricultural exhibit occupies the streets on two sides of the court house square.

Exhibitors of corn are making a great effort to capture the $50 prizes offered for the best ten ears of white and the same number of yellow corn, with the consequence that there are some excellent displays.

Leonard B. Clore, of Johnson county, Indiana, known as the "corn king of the world," is present and will judge the exhibit. In addition to being an authority on corn, Mr. Clore is a politician, holding the office of representative from his county to the state legislature.

At 1 o'clock today Governor Osborne, of Michigan, delivered an address. Following the governor, Perry F. Powers, labor commissioner of Michigan, presented the sweepstakes medal to the boy winner in the corn-raising contest. The other speakers for the afternoon were ex-Senator L. E. Slack and Bishop John Hazen White.

MANY ATTEND FAIR.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 6.—Between seven and eight hundred local residents attended the fair at Bourbon yesterday. The early morning train carried 417 Warsaw passengers to the scenes of the celebration and at noon nearly that number took advantage of the cheap rates offered. The fair seemed to please the local visitors in every way.

OBSERVE RILEY DAY.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 6.—The schools of this city observed Riley day today in honor of the famous Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley. Special programs were carried out by the pupils of the various grades and in the high school an hour was given to the presentation of quotations from the noted poet.

STOCKHOLDERS MEET.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 6.—More than one hundred stockholders of the Farmers' Mutual Telephone company of this county met for their annual session at the Tuttle Opera house of this city yesterday afternoon. Some very important business matters were carried out after which new officers were chosen for the coming year.

TRAFFIC TIED UP.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 6.—Fourteen cars of an Erie freight train were derailed at Kingsland a short distance east of this city shortly before noon yesterday and traffic was tied up for several hours. Passengers on No. 21 were transferred to a train backed out from this city and walked around the wreck. No injuries were reported.

Mrs. J. S. Patterson and Mrs. Julia Thoman were hostesses to the Whist club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Patterson on Walsh street. The prize was won by Mrs. F. N. Shultz and consolation by Mrs. F. Feick. The guests included Mrs. E. J. Rogers from Bloomfield, N. J.

Heck McKellar from Kendallville was a Garrett visitor Thursday night.

Miss Hazel Longwell, from Van Wert, came Thursday to be the guest of Miss Mary Rollins during the fair.

Mrs. Campbell was found in an unconscious condition Thursday night at her home on Cowan street. Her niece called at the house last night about 8 o'clock and found her on the floor apparently dead. She hurriedly called for assistance and some of the neighbors ran over and worked with her until the arrival of the doctor, who soon revived her, but she is still in a critical condition being subject to heart trouble.

Miss Hazel Haverstock, Edna Lumu and Mahle Grear, of Auburn, spent Wednesday evening in Garrett.

Beacon Crib Blankets

We want you to see the Best line of the Best Blankets made. The Beacon Brand

We are ready with the finest collection of blankets ever brought to town. They are the famous Beacon Blankets---the cotton kind that look and feel like wool.

We have heard so many nice things said about them in previous years that we have bought a still greater variety in all sizes and weights, single and pairs. They certainly are sanitary—easy to wash—colors are fast. Be ure to see them before buying elsewhere.

Beacon BLANKETS

The Bed of Comfort is the one with the Genuine Beacon Blanket

The purchaser of one pair of Beacon blankets invariably returns for more. This we have found after several years' experience in selling them. Here are some of the reasons why the Beacon blankets are the best and most economical.

Beacon blankets are of cotton fabric, but possess every advantage of wool at about one-third of the cost of wool. In weaving, this fabric receives a special treatment, making them thick and fluffy, still light in weight and equal in warmth-giving to wool. They are as sanitary as wool, are absolutely fast color and the colors will not run in washing. Are non-shrinkable and moth-proof, and more reasonable in price than all-wool blankets.

BEACON BLANKETS—Large 11-4 double bed size, warm, durable and sanitary; excel anything ever sold at the price; come in White, Tan and Grey, with neat Pink or Blue borders; the very best Blankets ever offered at $3.50, $2.98, $2.50 and..... $1.98

BEACON ROBE BLANKETS—The maximum of wear and comfort are afforded by Beacon Bath Robe Blankets. They are warm, light and durable, are non-absorbent, fast color and unshrinkable. Patterns are attractive and appropriate. Let us show you the new effects. Priced, with Girdle special at..... $2.50

BEACON COMFORTABLES—We want you to see these beautiful Beacon Comfortables. They are made the same as Blankets, only heavier and warmer. There is no stuffing or filling—just a thick sheet of clean, sanitary cotton. We have these Beacon Comfortables in handsome Jacquard, two and three-color designs that are sure to delight you. Generous sizes, fast colors, easy to wash. Priced special at..... $2.98

BEACON PLAID BLANKETS—The very finest quality produced and extra weight. A beautiful showing of Plaid effects in shades of Pink, Blue, Tan and Grey Plaids, nicely bound with silk ribbon. These are extraordinary in attractiveness and the most exceptional values at $3.98 and..... $2.69

BEACON CAMPING BLANKETS—The very thing you want when you go camping. An extra heavy Blanket, full of warmth and comfort, and just the right color for outdoor use, and made extra strong to withstand hard usage. Specially priced at..... $2.98

Beacon Crib Blankets

What a comfort to Mothers when the wee ones are tucked away snugly under Beacon Crib Blankets. What a satisfaction in knowing that Baby's covering combines the maximum of warmth with minimum weight. That no hidden dangers to health lurk in its folds.

Beacon Crib Blankets are made of a fine grade of Cotton that may be washed as frequently as you like. They are always fresh and airy, yet cozy as the most exacting could wish.

We have them in Plain Colors and quaint Nursery Patterns.
Single, 49c, 75c, 98c. Double, 75c, 85c, 98c.

Beacon CRIB BLANKETS

WOOL BLANKETS

The values we offer are very exceptional, the assortment very complete and the qualities such as to command your admiration.

All-Wool Blankets—In plain colors, as tan, grey, red, fine combed wool and made under very sanitary conditions. We offer three very exceptional values at the pair for $5, $4.50 and..... $3.98

All-Wool Plaid Blankets — Extra plaids, large variety of colors, as pink-and-white, blue-and-white, tan-and-white, black-and-white, and pleasing cross-bar effects; four very excellent values at the pair for $7.50, $6.90, $6.50, $5.00, $4.50..... $3.98

COTTON FLEECE BLANKETS

Those who cannot afford the luxury of wool blankets will find in our cotton fleece blankets but one difference—price. And our prices make it profitable for housewives to look to futureas well as present needs. The warmth and wear of wool at a fraction of the cost.

Cotton Fleece Blankets—Grey or tan, large size, 69c; usually selling for 75c. Big value for a small price.

Cotton Fleece Blankets—10-4, gray or tan, 75c; usually selling for 85c. A close, firm weave with soft, warm fleece.

Cotton Fleece Blankets — Extra strong, in tan or grey, and heavily fleeced, 98c; usual price, $1.25.

Cotton Fleece Blankets—Double bed size, $1.19; usually selling for $1.50; in grey or tan, fancy colored borders.

Cotton Fleece Blankets—Large 11-4 size, tan or grey, for $1.25; usually selling for $1.69. A splendid smooth fleece, and a big value.

DR. WILEY IS FREED.

All predictions, forecasts and prophecies put forth when the Wiley inquiry had gone so far as to develop Dunlap and McCabe seem to have got a hump on themselves and come under the wire together. Solicitor McCabe and Dr. Dunlap will no longer ornament the agricultural department; no longer heckle and harry Dr. Wiley; no longer make it easy for the food-maker and drug-mixer who labels his product something it isn't. Here's to their going, and more speed to them. To just what extent these two conspicuous worthies are responsible for harm to the general stomach of the country never can be known; but they are responsible for the impotency into which the government bureau of chemistry steadily declined in dealing with food and drug dopesters and poisoners is a proved fact. They were pinioned fast in the congressional inquiry last summer. They were the men who had made life a burden for Dr. Wiley, who had opposed his determined efforts to make the pure food and drug laws carry the meaning congress intended to give them and who nullified all he sought to do in behalf of the people whom he served. It was the general prediction at the time these disclosures were made that these gentlemen were not long for the little world of their triumphs over a brave and capable public servant. The president's findings in the Wiley case sealed their fate and signed their passports. They go and with them goes as persistent and thoroughly organized a system as ever was instituted inside the government to throttle the laws. With his hands freed and his way untrammeled, Dr. Wiley will now proceed to give proper effect to enforce laws that were a long time coming and have not meant a great deal since they got here. Wiley has courage, resoluteness and great capacity and some liking for a fight. Watch him.

AS TO STREET CARS.

The traction interests which operate the city lines in Fort Wayne are preparing to equip their lines in Lafayette and Logansport with cars having pay-as-you-enter and doubtless other modern appointments. Fort Wayne, which produces more revenue from urban traffic in a day than both of the other cities together do in two, is to wait. The reason given is that the equipment here is thought too good to be thrown away. Doubtless if any of the Lafayette and Logansport discard is found available Fort Wayne will have the joy of it. This seems to be a part of the general policy of the traction company here in teaching the people to walk. It is not a bad tutelage for the people, for it gives them salutary exercise and saves them money; but it will not abate the customary bellyaching of the company that it makes no money in Fort Wayne. If it makes no money in this city it is because its business policy with respect to its patrons greatly assists to that end. At the "overload" hours of traffic here lots of people walk, not because they want exercise or to save money, but because they cannot get aboard cars jammed to twice their intended capacity. The last equipment purchased by the traction company was a joblot of archaic cars that no look-alive, modern street railway company would impose upon its patrons. However, it is left to be inferred that as soon as the present equipment wears out we shall have the blessing of some that is newer if no better.

GOOD LABOR GOING TO SEED.

Under the present system of caring for prisoners in the county jail enough good bone labor will go to waste within the next three or four years to have accomplished about all that is designed in the dreams of the river improvement advocates. The river improvement scheme is a problem of finance; nothing more. Down in the county jail, if the customary lick is kept up providing sojourners for that institution, is a potential solution of a large part of that problem. It is senseless as well as cruel to compel these men to put in their time for more or less long periods in complete idleness. They need the bodily exercise and the fresh air and wholesome sunshine of outdoor employment, and there is a world of public work hereabouts that they would be the better off for doing and the public better off for having done. This labor is mainly of a sort that would not bring them into competition with the general labor market. There is always in good or fairly good times a dearth of men to wield pick and shovel. Moreover, the most salutary phase of the penalty imposed for minor offenses against the law is had in compulsion to labor. Many of them would be glad to do it; all of them would be benefited by it. The county would get an offset to a great expense and permanent improvements would be wrought of which the entire community could have the use and enjoyment. We believe the practicability of this worth looking into.

The city administration may as well settle its mind to a philosophical state and be prepared for an endless chain of kicks on garbage collection in this city. There will be no surcease until the problem is taken up and disposed of in a practical way. It will not be solved by paying a contractor a little more to remove garbage from alleys and backyards or by putting a new smokestack on the old crematory. This newspaper will continue from time to time to afford enlightenment and furnish criticism until the common sense thing is provided for. Garbage disposal involves considerations of cleanliness and public health and it is a question that must be reckoned with.

The Harrison-Hearst or the Hearst-Harrison faction of the Illinois democracy is starting upon its job of kicking the Honorable Sullivan out of the back door and receiving him at the front door. All the democratic leaders of the simon-pure stripe from William J. Bryan down have taken a kick at the serene and unterrified Roger and all of them have hopped around with stubbed toes afterward. It is suspected that the Honorable Sullivan carries a paving block where a Kentuckian carries his pistol and a Tammany democrat carries his flask.

There seems to be a rather general revival of that federal court expedient opprobriously designated as government by injunction in some of the southern states where the strike on the Harriman lines has evolved disorder in communities and excess of embarrassment for the railroads. The dispatches revive many memories for former times.

A WORLD-WIDE UNREST.

(New York Evening Mail.)

The world seems to be approaching a time of crisis. Trouble looms everywhere—social, economic, political.

In Britain the labor unions seem to have mastered the art of the universal strike and the nation trembles, awaiting the next upheaval. Spain and Austria have proclaimed martial law as the result of widespread riots—in Vienna riots over the cost of bread, in Spain riots that seem to be the preliminary of a social revolution. France riots against high prices. Norways army is mutinous. The sword and flame of terrorism are abroad again in Russia. In America business complains that its wheels are stopped by hostile legislation.

What does it all mean? What is going to happen? Are we on the verge of some great step of progress, or are we approaching a time of anarchy and public decadence?

Men will answer the question according to their prepossessions. But some things are certain. The toilers of the world, the wage-workers, are daily drawing nearer to the lever of political power, because they have attained the knowledge which is the source of all power. But it is not they who have wrought the change. The centralization and consolidation of capital, invested in the great industries and commerce, have centralized labor, instructed it, solidified it and socialized it. Public schools and libraries have so taught the workers that now it is they who read the books of sociology and economics, rather than their more preoccupied employers.

As they have gained in education, the workers have advanced in refinement, and their needs and aspirations have become imperative. Along with the upward rush of the standard of living there has gone an intense development of class consciousness, and a tremendous growth of ambition. It is capital itself which has brought the workers of the world to the point where they feel themselves ready to burst the bonds that have held them.

The world's "unrest" is the malaise of the snake that has grown until he knows that his old skin must be sloughed off. Within the old integument the creature feels a new and shining skin waiting for the light. He is conscious of the more splendid investiture that is within his rusty, time-worn exterior. He will have no rest until he has made the change!

Perhaps we may all rejoice in the change when it is completed. But how will its throes affect the world? There is the rub. We do not welcome the transition. Riots, strikes, panics, the griping want of economic reaction, are not pleasant to look forward to. The unrest is not immediately reassuring. It behooves every citizen to be steady. Let us keep our heads cool, our hearts kindly and hopeful and our hands busy, and strive to save the state and society from the worst disturbances.

LAW AND WORKMEN.

(Helen L. Sumner, in the American Review of Reviews.)

The minor disputes, which are at the bottom of most of the ill feeling in industrial relations and which, like the steady dripping of water, are capable of wearing away the firmest stone of industrial betterment—welfare work, profit-sharing, or any other system—fall naturally into two classes. The first contains all disputes relative to the formation of the labor contract and the second all disputes relative to its execution. Written law has little bearing upon the first class of disputes, but every civilized country has legislation to regulate the execution of labor contracts. Anglo-Saxon countries, however, forgetful of the fact that there is no bitterness like that of the man who feels, rightly or wrongly, that he has the law on his side, but that there is another power greater than law, have given little or no attention to the settlement of the second class of disputes. It has been taken for granted that in the labor contract, as in other contracts, either side can easily secure the enforcement of the law through the ordinary courts.

In actual practice, however, what means of redress has a workingman who believes, for example, that his work has been unfairly measured and that, therefore, his employer has not paid him as much as he has fairly earned under their agreement? He may, of course, sue his employer for the balance of his wages. But to do this he is obliged, not only to submit to a nerve-racking and time-frittering delay in the settlement of his case, but also to hire a lawyer and incur fees out of all proportion to the amount of his loss. Wages are usually paid at short intervals and in comparatively small sums and, as a result, a dispute rarely arises which justifies recourse to such dilatory and expensive legal machinery. Seventy-five years ago the workingmen of the United States demanded vociferously a simpler and less expensive system of legal procedure. Little, however, has been done to bring law, as administered by the courts, within the reach of the poor, but independent toiler. The workingman, therefore, who feels that he has been unjustly treated, in ninety cases, and perhaps in ninety-nine cases, out of a hundred, pockets his loss, real or fancied, and at the same time lays by for future use a stock of bitterness of spirit and hatred of his employer. Such workingmen furnish henceforth a breeding ground for industrial strife.

WHO IS TO BLAME FOR THE BROKEN DAM?

(New York American.)

The undisputed history of the Bayless dam shows that the defects revealed in January of last year were so alarming that the inhabitants of Austin left their houses and took to the hills in midwinter. The repairs made at that time were inadequate. They seem to have been careless to the pitch of criminality. It ought not to be difficult therefore to fix a personal responsibility—and the law of Pennsylvania should press along this line to the limit.

But after the private persons who are most to blame have been convicted and punished, there is something more to be attended to. The state itself is to blame. If the state of Pennsylvania were a little more civilized such calamities as those of Johnstown and Austin could not happen.

In Pennsylvania, as well as in every other state of the union, there is a public laxity—very marked from the viewpoint of European standards—in the protecting of human lives from the chances of industrial accident.

Though the loss of life in this case was much smaller than was supposed, it was great and grievous enough to point a moral with peculiar force.

The moral is that there should have been some public authority in Potter county, Pennsylvania, in January, 1910, competent to understand the need of a thorough renovation of the Bayless dam—and strong enough to compel the renovation, in spite of the reluctance of a reckless private corporation.

HEARD AT THE STAMP WINDOW.

When a meek little man stepped up to the stamp window in a branch office and asked for an eight-cent stamp he caused as much consternation as if he had demanded "your money or your life."

All the clerks came to the window to take a look at him. They muttered to one another and made strange and fantastic signs, crossed their fingers, knocked on wood and did various other things that are supposed to drive away evil spirits.

"We're just out of eight-cent stamps," a clerk finally stammered. "Got lots of twos and ones."

"Well, gimme a five and a three," said the meek little man, upon receiving which he paid for them and departed.

"What's the matter with the eights?" queried an inquisitive spectator.

The stamp clerk was still too nervous to answer, but one of the others said, with a smile:

"Eights are hoodoos. None of the small offices handle them if they can help it. It's this way: They are just a wee shade different in color from the ones and it is no infrequent thing for a stamp clerk in a hurry to hand out a lot of eights when ones are asked and paid for. It always costs him seven cents a stamp when he does it. The clerk here the other day during the rush hour, when the offices are closing, was called upon for a dollar's worth of ones. He handed out a hundred eights instead. Cost him $7. Then he got rid of all the rest of the eights and now he won't have anything to do with eights."—New York Herald.

ANNUAL BANQUET HELD AT CHURCH

Standard Bearers of First M. E. Church Begin the Year's Work With Event

RESPOND TO TOASTS

One among the most enjoyable and successful social church affairs of the year, was that held Thursday evening in the social rooms of the First M. E. church. It was the annual banquet of the Standard Bearers, one of the young people's societies of the church, the principal purpose of which is the aiding of missions at home and in foreign lands. It inaugurated their work and series of meetings for the year.

Seated at the four long tables in the big dining rooms of the church were over one hundred guests, the young ladies and gentlemen who are members of the organization. Before each guest, at his and her plate, was a small lighted taper and the handsomely printed program of the meetings of the society for 1911-1912. Larger lighted candles were placed as center pieces for the tables, which were also decorated with flowers and the picture presented was a beautiful one when Standish, the photographer, took a flash-light photo for The Sentinel for use in its columns of Saturday.

The menu was an elaborate one, served by the ladies in charge in courses, between which the program of toasts was carried out. Miss Ruth Ridenour, the president of the Standard Bearers, was toastmistress and after Rev. J. A. Beatty, the superintendent of the Fort Wayne district, had invoked the divine blessing, Miss Ridenour gave the orders to eat in a brief introductory, which began with the following quotation from the distinguished Scotch poet, whom we all love:

"Some have meat and canna' eat;
Some can eat that want it.
But we have meat and we can eat it;
So the Lord be thankful."

The program of responses to toasts, for which each participant had come prepared, was an excellent one, a few of them humorous, but all appropriate to the occasion, interesting in thought and well delivered, being as follows:

"The Standard Bearer" ..... Erman Campbell
"The Land of Vira" ..... Miss Fern Winters
"Vacation" ..... CarlTumleson
Reading ..... Florence McMillen
"Our Young People" ..... Rev. J. K. Cecil

Each speaker was introduced by the toastmistress, who officiated splendidly in that capacity, with timely remarks, and frequently humorous. The response of Miss Winters to the toast, "The Land of Vira," was an especially interesting one. "The Land of Vira," to which she referred, is a place in faraway India, where the Standard Bearers of the First M. E. church are supporting and educating an India native girl, "Vira" by name. Miss Winters wove into her response much of interest concerning this India girl and the mission work in that country.

During the evening the Schlatter orchestra discoursed music and the young people, enthusiastic in all the exercises, applauded the orchestra numbers heartily. The Schlatter orchestra assists the choir of the First church in many of the public worship services and the entertainments given.

REV. H. H. SPIHER IS HONORED

Re-elected President of Indiana Association of Church of God.

WIFE ALSO HONORED

Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Spiher returned Thursday afternoon from Miami county, this state, where at the Olive Branch church, fifteen miles from Peru, they had been in attendance on the Indiana state eldership meeting of the Church of God, which had been in session since Monday of this week, a state convention of the pastors and elders of the denomination, of which the Rev. Spiher is the pastor in this city.

Rev. Mr. Spiher is the president of the state association, having served as such for five years and at the meeting just closed he was re-elected to this office, entering now on his sixth year in that capacity. Others of the principal state officers elected are:

Stated Clerk—Rev. I. W. Markley, Columbia City.

Financial Clerk—Rev. L. A. Lookingbill, Whitley county.

Treasurer—Rev. W. J. Beatty, Zanesville.

Pastors Given Changes.

The next meeting of the state association will be held at Ari in Noble county. During the sessions the pastors were assigned to their respective charges for the ensuing year. The assignments covered the entire state, only those in this immediate vicinity will be of local interest and the Sentinel gives them.

Rev. Mr. Spiher was returned as pastor of the Church of God in this city. Rev. H. G. Heidwen was sent to Sheldon in charge of the Zanesville circuit, and other arrangements were as follows:

Columbia City—Rev. I. W. Markley.
Oak Grove—Rev. Lookingbill.
Miami Circuit—Rev. S. W. Johnson.
Syracuse Circuit—Rev. A. McClellan.
Idaville—Rev. Thos. F. Funk.
Lagrange Circuit — Rev. George Komp.
Auburn and Butler—Rev. Mr. Wiese.
Ari—Rev. Emma L. Isenberg.

Mrs. Isenberg has been the pastor at the church at Ari for some years. She has charge of other churches in that city, the circuit being known as the Sugar Grove circuit.

Mrs. Spiher Honored.

During the week and at the same church the Indiana Woman's Missionary society was in state session, with Mrs. Spiher, the wife of the pastor in this city, presiding. She has been president of the state association for seven years and was re-elected to serve as such for her eighth consecutive year as state president.

The session of both the eldership meeting and the missionary societies were largely attended and matters of interest to the denomination were generally discussed. The reports made showed the churches throughout the state to be in a prosperous condition. The same was true in regard to the work of the missionary societies in Indiana.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Preparatory Services Tonight for Communion Sunday.

The service at the First Presbyterian church tonight is one preparatory to the regular communion service next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, and the pastor urges all members to attend. The meeting lasts but a short time.

The unique kindergarten class of the First church Sunday school starts next Sunday. Instead of the regular hour for Sunday school, this class is held at the time for the morning church service, at eleven o'clock. With this class in operation mothers of young children can attend church, leaving the little ones in charge of competent and experienced kindergarteners, and calling for them after the service.

SALEM REFORMED CHURCH.

Annual Mission Feast Will Be Held on Sunday.

The annual mission feast of the Salem Reformed church will be held next Sunday with services at the church at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Rev. G. Hafner, of Portland, Ore., will preach at both services. In the evening the other Reformed congregations will unite with the Salem in the holding of a union service and their pastors will take part in the program. There will be a collection taken for missions at all the services as well as at services of the Sunday school.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"The Heart of Chicago" Tonight and Saturday.

Those who like a stirring drama of today will go to the Majestic theater this evening and Saturday matinee and night, when Lincoln J. Carter's "The Heart of Chicago" will be presented, and though it has been seen here before it is always sure to receive a warm welcome on its return. The story depicted is an intense one. The author has been particularly fortunate in his comedy scenes and has furnished some bright line to those who are entrusted with the task of relieving the tension of wrought up nerves and emotions of the audience.

New Play Coming.

Daniel Frohman will present at the Majestic theater on October 25 his latest New York play, recently presented at the Lyceum theater, entitled "Thy Neighbor's Wife," with Arthur Byron, a well known American actor, in the principal role. The original New York cast, including Pamela Gaythorne, Alice John, Fred Tiden, Henry Stillman, etc., will also appear. The idea of the play is extremely original. In the first act two twin cottages are shown. They are occupied by two young married couples, who, in the process of their lives, realize that each is fonder of the other's spouse than of his own. The men propose a change of partners. Their scheme is carried through a series of humorous complications, but by the cleverness of the wives the trade is effected much to their surprise. The development of the play as carried along upon these lines. How the husbands and wives return to each other at the end of their extraordinary experience is humorously shown without a suggestion of impropriety in the play, which the New York American called an unusual work, and of whose success the New York Sun said there was no question. The play will be presented with the same perfection of detail and scenery that Mr. Frohman revealed during the New York performance.

Handsome Success for St. Joseph's Hospital Bazar.

Reports submitted at a meeting of the general committee in charge of the recent bazar at Princess rink for the benefit of St. Joseph's hospital show that the enterprise yielded a net profit of $16,308.72 which will be available for the erection of the large addition to the hospital. The total receipts were $18,807 and the expenses $2,498.28.

Both the committee and the hospital authorities are delighted at the success of the big undertaking, and resolutions expressing thanks to all who assisted in making it a success were adopted. Especial mention is made in the resolutions of Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding and other clergymen, the Electro-Technic band, the ladies of the various churches, the newspapers and the public in general for its patronage of the bazar to aid a splendid cause. The gentlemen who conducted the stein booth were also commended, this feature alone yielding a revenue of $1,909. They were F. E. Bougher, J. J. Dormer, Clem Fox and S. A. Callahan.

A LABORIOUS WORD.

There is no word, long or short, in the English language capable of performing so much labor in a clear, intelligible sense as the verb to get; and here is an old-time specimen of its capabilities:

"I got on horseback within ten minutes after I got your letter. When I go to Canterbury I get a chaise for town; but I got wet through before I got to Canterbury, and I have got such a cold as I shall not be able to get rid of in a hurry. I got to the treasury about noon, but first of all I got shaved and dressed. I soon got into the secret of getting a memorial before the board, but I could not get an answer then; however, I got intelligence from the messenge rthat I should most likely get one the next morning. As soon as I got back to my inn I got my supper. When I got up in the morning I got my breakfast and then got myself dressed that I might get out in time to get an answer to my memorial. As soon as I got it I got int othe first chaise and got to Canterbury by 3 o'clock, and about tea time I got home."—Ave Maria.

SOCIETY

A quiet elegance and refinement in appointment were characteristic of a small bridge party that Mrs. Frank L. Smock gave at her home this afternoon, thus complimenting Miss Bertha Peters and members of her bridal party and visiting guests. The colors were gold and white and when the guests took their tally cards for the game they found bride roses tied to them. The chosen colors of the afternoon were shown in the serving of a supper after the bridge game and tiny flowers and ferns made an artistic adornment in the dessert course. There were a dozen guests.

A family dinner party and also one of pre-nuptial appointments was given by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Vesey, at their home in East Wayne street, last evening, in honor of Miss Sallie Vesey and her fiance, Cecil Alviere Max, of Muncie. Covers were laid for seventeen and Mrs. Schumaker catered for the dinner. The decorations were beautiful and of pretty arrangement. A low basket filled with bride roses and ferns stood in the center of the table and crystal candlesticks holding white candles under fancy green shades carried out a general coloring of green and white. The place cards were water color drawings in pastel shades.

A beautiful bridge party for Miss Bertha Peters and Neil A. McKay was given by Miss Georgiana Bond last evening, at her home in West Berry street. The guests were members of the coming bridal party and visiting guests, Miss Catherine Gregory and Miss Elva Faeth, of Kansas City. At the close of the game the company was invited to the diningroom and seated at one table, the place of honor being reserved for Miss Peters and indicated by a quaint basket filled with a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and maidenhair fern. The table was laid in cluny mats and the floral decorations were a large basket filled with pink carnations and ferns. Big bows of pink gauze ribbon and candles under delicately tinted Dresden shades and sprays of plumosus furnished further adornment of the table. On the drinking glasses perched tiny cockatoos that held the place cards. The appointments were elegant and the supper a delicious one.

Mrs. James E. Elliott, of Elliottsville, Pa., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marx Dukes. Mrs. Elliott had been visiting in Wabash.

Miss Virginia Randall, of East Berry street, will entertain the Qui Vive society this evening and a number of new members will be initiated.

Mrs. Frank Mommer, of Washington boulevard west, has returned from Chicago, where she had been visiting her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, who live at the Hotel Metropole.

Miss Fannie Winch and Master Sol Bash have returned from Mackinac island, where they went early in August. Miss Mildred Winch has returned to Indianapolis after a visit here with relatives.

Mrs. Stephen A. Burrowes, of Los Angeles, who went to Franklin, O., for a visit after spending two or three weeks here, returned here today and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Harper. Mrs. Burrowes will be a guest at the Harper home for an indefinite time.

Miss Elsie Janis and her mother, Joseph Cawthorn and Frank Burbank, all of "The Slim Princess" company, were visitors at the Country club, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Griffin, yesterday afternoon. The afternoon was spent on the links and the guests were at the club for dinner.

At a regular meeting of the T. J. S. club on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Bourne, of West Jefferson street, pedro and a luncheon were the entertainment. Misses Gertrude Kruckeberg and Lela Fetters won the prizes and the next meeting will be held with Miss Katherine Clemens, of 1223 Huron street.

Much interest is expressed in a meeting of the Woman's League tomorrow afternoon in the public library building. The meeting will be held at 2:30 o'clock and the prorgam is in charge of the industrial department, of which Mrs. E. M. Wilson is chairman. R. W. Himelick, of Indianapolis, is to be present to speak on "The Training for the Masses." Mothers, teachers, principals of schools and everyone interested in the education and the development of children and young people are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

Master Edwin Gemmer, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gemmer, of East Wayne street, celebrated his birthday anniversary on Wednesday and a number of playmates were asked to spend the afternoon with him. A birthday cake with three pink candles decorating its top and other good things that children like pleased the small host and his friends. Mrs. C. Huffman assisted Mrs. Gemmer at supper. The guests were Rachel Baird, Ruth Stutzenberg, Carol Frame, Hulda Schwier, Emma Huffman, Lavon Phillips, Imogene, Irene and Donald Ferris and Edwin Gemmer.

Tomato Fritters.

Season highly one pint of strained tomatoes with salt, pepper and a little onion juice, then add three well beaten eggs. Cut stale bread in fingers an inch and a half square by four long, removing all crust; baste these with the prepared tomato until thoroughly soaked. Roll each carefully in fine dry crumbs and fry, three at a time, in deep, smoking hot fat. Drain for a moment on soft paper and send at once to the table.

Junket.

Allow one junket tablet to a quart of milk. Put two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a few spoonfuls of the measured milk in a saucepan and stir over the fire until the sugar is dissolved, then add the remainder of the milk and heat barely blood warm. Take from the fire, add any desired flavoring and the junket tablet, which has been crushed with a spoon and dissolved in a tablespoonful of cold water. Pour instantly into cups or a serving dish and let stand undisturbed for half an hour in the warm kitchen. When firmly set, carefully transfer to the ice box and serve very cold with cream.

FROCK OF WASH MATERIAL.

By Mrs. Jane Ford.

THE practical girl's dress for general wear, shown by this drawing, has the body and sleeves cut in one, with the new shaped sailor collar, deep turnback cuffs and a straight plaited skirt. Although the dress is decidedly smart in appearance, it is really a very simple, easy model to develop, and it will be lovely carried out in any of the wash materials that are so popular for winter wear. A combination of plaid or striped goods and a plain color is most satisfactory, although the dress can be carried out in one material, and the collar and cuffs elaborated with a little hand embroidery or braiding. A simple form of hand work that can be quickly carried out is featherstitching. This, arranged along the hem of the collar and cuffs, is quite effective if a heavy mercerized cotton is used for the work.

When making the dress, if the directions on the pattern label are followed, one cannot make a mistake, even though very little is known about sewing. The nicest way to finish the garment is to fell all the seams of the waist and to overcast those of the skirt. The collar must be cut double, and the cuffs can be cut in the same way, attached to the sleeves and rolled back, or a single piece of the goods may be used for the cuffs and these faced up on the right side of the sleeves. The closing, at the back is made invisibly and for the purpose a medium sized flat pearl button should be used. To copy the dress for a girl eight years of age two and three-quarters yards of thirty-six inch goods is needed.

"THE SLIM PRINCESS" DELIGHTS.

Miss Elsie Janis Charms Audience in First Visit to Fort Wayne.

"I hope you have enjoyed me as much as I have enjoyed trying to please you this evening and that this, my first visit to Fort Wayne, will soon be repeated." was the import of a brief speech made last night by Miss Elsie Janis, who appeared in "The Slim Princess" at the Majestic theater. There was no doubt of the audience's great delight in Miss Janis and people who had never been fortunate enough to see her in visits to New York or Chicago, left the theater feeling that the complimentary things they had heard and read about Elsie Janis were more than true. She is quite unusually captivating with the charm and vigor of youth and a naturalness which years of success have not spoiled. Not merely beauty of face and marked grace and suppleness of figure are characteristics of Miss Janis, but she has still greater gifts, those of magnetism and talent. Just how talented this young artist is was perhaps best appreciated in her mimicry of Ethel Barrymore, Sam Barnard, Anna Held, Eddie Foy and Harry Lauder. They were very clever and one of many bright things of the entertainment.

Aside from Miss Janis the performance was such as to call forth the entire approbation of an audience that filled the theater. Musically the opera has many numbers of loveliness and their beauty would have been more apparent had the company embraced extra men to supplement the theater orchestra. As it was only a pianist augmented the local players. "The Slim Princess" is tiptop entertainment. George Ade's story, Leslie Stuart's music and Henry Blossom's book and lyrics have made a combination that makes entertainment of the kind that pleases the great majority of amusement lovers and when a company contains such people as Miss Janis and Joseph Cawthorn, supplemented with actors of the ability of Sam Burbank, Oscar Ragland, Charles Judels, W. Douglas Stevenson and Julia Frary, it is a certainty that the entertainment will be first class. Mr. Cawthorn is always delightful and his role as the princess' tutor affords him excellent opportunity to display his talent for entertaining. Mr. Cawthorn was well appreciated and shared honors of the evening. The opera has many funny spots in it and neither the book nor the action depend on the principals for its sucess. Comedy, pretty dancing, spirited action and numerous unexpected funny things give the performance a place of high rank. Charles Dillingham, under whose management "The Slim Princess" appears, has given the production a splendid investiture in the way of settings and costumes and the entire company was satisfactory.

CAN'T MAR THE GRANDEUR.

Switzerland Probably Will Resent Further Alpine Railroad Construction.

In a memorial presented recently to the Swiss government the ligue for the preservation of scenery in that country asks that no more concessions should be granted for the construction of Alpine railways.

It is probable that concessions in the future may not be obtained so easily as in the past, as there is a certain amount of feeling in the country that these railways, though they certainly appeal to a large number of visitors, do not improve the beauty of the Alps.

Many of the mountaineering visitors dislike these railways, but they very seldom care to climb on foot a height which can be scale din a comfortable carriage Such a mountain loses all charm, it appears, for the pedestrian, and he generally goes off to districts where the mountain railway has not been introduced.

NOW FOR THE IDEAL MARRIAGE

Taking the Cue from a Prenuptial Wedding Contract, Why Couldn't It Be Construed to Cover a Multitude of Things?

(Ethel Lloyd Patterson in the New York Evening World.)

This is the day of weird marriages: weirder reasons for divorce and weirdest matrimonial contracts.

An artist publicly canes a woman companion and the artist's wife declares he was not "quite himself when he did it." She intends to cling to him and love him just the same. Probably she feels that after all, in the strictest sense of the word, he did not raise his hand to a woman, and that he is, therefore, still a gentleman at heart. So much for forgiveness.

Another wife, trailing her infelicities through the columns of the newspapers, declares she found it necessary to elope with the man she loved because her husband "fished all day." The old-fashioned wife would have been only too glad of any simple amusement for her spouse which kept him from angling in the stream of metropolitan life with a little midnight supper as bait. However, so much for the unforgivable.

But in Kansas City it appear they do not do things that way. If one did not fear the accusation of nature-faking one might say the Kansas City wife feathers her nest before she hops into it. Or, is it possible Mrs. S. A. Dickson is a shining example of western foresight? Ante-nuptial financial arrangements are as old as the "dot" system. But a contract which provides for the post-matrimonial behavior of a husband is as modern as an electric ice box in the house. But such a contract is exactly what Mrs. S. A. Dickson insisted upon before going through the charming formality of promising "to love, honor and obey" Mr. Dickson.

This is the statement, sworn to before a notary, that the fond western husband signed:

"To Whom it May Concern:

"I, S. A. Dickson, do hereby agree to all and everything herein mentioned. I agree to allow my wife, T. A. Dickson, to do just as she feels inclined to do, and to feel just as free to come and go and to visit and to go with whom she feels inclined, without giving or showing any jealousy to her for such acts on her part, nor watch or condemn her for so doing. I will not interfere with her in any way whatever. I wish her to feel just as free to come and go as the day she was born.

"I will be good and kind to her and give all my earnings to her. She is to keep them as she sees fit and best. If we should put any of it in the bank it will be so placed as to require the signatures of both of us to draw it out. If I fail to live up to this agreement I will allow her to have a legal separation if she so desires. I further agree to make her the legal heir to all my life insurance or whatever may accumulate in the way of property through our associations."

Yet, even after this, it seems to the casual observer that Mrs. Dickson forgot a few things. To be sure, one has to admit that she had an eye for fundamentals, but is it not the little things which count most? Would she not stand a better chance of hapiness had her husband signed a contract which would read something after this fashion?:

"I promise always to fasten my wife's dresses without grumbling, without jerking and without putting my fingers down the back of her collar till I nearly choke her.

"I shall never ask her what she did with the money I gave her.

"I promise never to joke about marriage with other men before my wife. I realize marriage is a serious business to a woman, whether she only wants to get married, to stay married or to marry somebody else.

"I shall never tell her, after she is all dressed, that the particular color she is wearing is not becoming to her.

"I promise never to tell her that she is growing older or fatter or thinner or grayer, or that she needs a rest.

"I shall never leave my letters about and then chide my wife for the pardonable interest she takes in my affairs.

"I promise never to be patient and forbearing with my wife when what she wants is a man-to-man argument.

"I shall never accuse her, no matter what my income may be, of being extravagent, because she takes a taxicab when it rains.

"Finally, I promise to allow my wife the choice of states in getting her divorce."

But, after all, such a set of rules might place a man at a disadvantage, and the modern woman above all desires to "play fair." Therefore, one could suggest a counter contract in Mr. Dickson's favor to be signed by Mrs. Dickson, a contract to read something like this:

"I promise never to use my husband's military brushes for any purpose whatsoever.

"I agree never to eat corn on the cob where he can see me do it.

"I promise to be reasonably on time for all theater appointments with him—that is to say, not less than five minutes late, nor more than half an hour.

"I shall let my husband smoke in any part of the house in which he desires to smoke.

"I promise never to say, 'I am going home to my mother,' unless I keep the promise.

"I promise never to cold cream my face in my husband's presence.

"I agree not to wear shoes that are in the slightest degree 'run over' at the heels.

"Finally, I do solemnly aver I shall never wear anything to breakfast that is not spotlessly clean and provided with all its buttons buttoned and its tapes tied."

Can you fancy the ideal existence after."

ANNOUNCEMENT

WE ARE PREPARED TO SHOW THE NEWEST AND BEST ASSORTMENT OF FURS and FUR COATS WE HAVE EVER SHOWN HERETOFORE

There is only one right way to hold a cigar, that is if the smoker has an especially easy chair in which he is liable to fall asleep while enjoying the fragrant weed. John H. Starbuck told about it at a recent meeting of opticians in Springfield, Mass., according to Popular Mechanics. If one holds a cigar between the first and second fingers, the act of falling asleep will invariably cause the hold to become relaxed, and the cigar will drop from the fingers, to the imminent danger of the clothes or the carpet. That is how not to do it. But if the seductive roll be held between the second and third fingers, the cigar would still be found safely grasped in the hand, even if the sleeper did not wake up until the "morning between two people living up to two such contracts? The divorce courts would languish and the newspapers fade from yellow to a lovely cream color. And the arishaft of every apartment would echo to soft words and gentle speeches.

The Realization of the Ideal in Women's Dress

Depicted in the Comprehensive Showing of

Coats, Suits, Dresses, Gowns, Skirts, Waists and Furs

It is truly a bewildering display from which hundreds of the newest creations beckon you—Paris, London, Berlin—faithful reproductions and adaptations! modes that are distinctive. Value with beauty, has attained for us the leadership of fashions, because we have solved the problem of presenting the very latest and correct styles at moderate prices. Every one of the many, many stunning creations deserve special mention, but, unfortunately, we cannot feature each new style that arrives these days—the number is too great—we must pick at random for our announcements. A personal visit will prove highly interesting and profitable to you.

Tomorrow We Will Introduce a Rare Coat Value, Emphatically so for the Price, Which Is 14.75

YOU CANNOT FIND ITS EQUAL UNDER $20.00

We have done some planning with the maker to produce this garment and be able to offer it for this price. It is an adaption from a Parisian model and very dressy. Just imagine a soft, velvety finish, lustrous black broadcloth, made up into a long, semi-fitting coat with large collar having the new point back and deep at front and then inlaid with rich black satin, touches of which are also on the deep cuffs; also showing the new panel back. Further decoration consists of the deep cuffs; also showing the new panel back. Further decoration consists of large semi-sphere satin buttons, with silk braid rim. It is lined throughout with guaranteed satin, a point that adds to its value. You have now pictured in your mind a beautiful, dressy coat, and you will not be disappointed when you see it. It's a marvel for the price, $14.75.

Of course, while featuring the above coat in today's ad. we must mention collectively, of the immense assortment of novelty coats with their pretty application of contrasting colors—plushes, caracal, broadcloths, cheviots, serges—for women and misses—and they range in price, step by step, from

FREE LUNCHES TO BE MADE CLEANER

State Health Board Will Fight to Protect Saloon Patrons.

SODA STANDS ALSO

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—The free lunch counters of saloons in Indiana are the next targets in the "clean-up" fight being waged by the state board of health. H. E. Barnard, chemist of the board, yesterday said he will instruct his deputies at a coming meeting, to compel compliance with the sanitary food laws hereafter, as well as the pure food laws, by every saloon keeper in the state.

No more will bartenders be permitted to wipe off the slime of a dozen previous portions of "dog and slaw" on their sleeves and tender the fork for the thirteenth helping. Mr. Barnard said hereafter, free lunch counters in saloons must be safeguarded from flies with glass cases and the utensils, used in the distribution of food, must be cleansed by methods which will minimize the chances of bacteria spread.

Soda fountains also are to be watched closely by the state chemist. Glasses, dishes and spoons used in serving soda water and other fountain concoctions, will be washed in an entirely different way from the "cold water splash," if the proprietors desire to escape prosecution, the state health official declared.

Heretofore the investigation of saloons by state board of health officials has been confined strictly to obviating the use of adulterated or fraudulently labeled beverages. The free lunch counter now must come up to the same requirements expected of restaurant keepers, cafe proprietors and hotel managers.

Points to Menace of Dirt.

"There is, so far as I know, not a saloon keeper in Indianapolis who is protecting his free lunch counter," said Mr. Barnard, discussing the coming order from the board. "The patrons dig in with forks, hundreds of them a day. The same forks are used and the germs travel at will from one mouth to another. That heterogeneous method of serving must be stopped. If it is not done in a legal way hereafter the proprietors will have to take the consequences.

"The soda fountains are just as amenable to the enforcement of the restaurant law as are the saloons. We have been studying the soda fountain situation for some time and have decided to act so that in both classes of places such methods will be used for cleansing utensils as will eradicate the danger of spreading infection from one mouth to another."

Both situations are covered fully by the pure food law as well as the sanitary food law, according to Mr. Barnard. The apparent neglect of the saloon problem by the chemist has been necessary, he said, because of the localization of all the forces of the department during the last few years on the problem of adulterated foods. That problem, Mr. Barnard said, is practically settled in Indiana.

The chemist bases his right to proceed against saloon keepers on the proposition that the law regards all drink as food.

The only "saving grace" to be found in the liquor-pure-food situation, Mr. Barnard said, is the fact that some of the whisky sold at Indiana bars contains so much alcohol that it sterilizes the utensils and glasses which it touches. That is not true of beer, however, he believes, nor is it true of the other liquors which form a large portion of the saloon's activity.

A CURE FOR SEASICKNESS.

In the glittering summer evening a th..Aklnhis shrdl ulashrdlu iou louaa pretty girl in white paced the promenade deck of a comfortable White Star liner.

"I perceive," said a pale passenger, "that you have cotton in your ears. May I ask why?"

She blushed and frowned.

"Yes, you may ask," she said, "if you don't mind being impolite. But, impolite or not, I'll answer you. I have cotton in my ears to ward off seasickness."

The pale passenger gulped. "You don't say!" he cried, hopefully.

"Yes, I do say. Many years ago a ship conveyed a cargo of deaf mutes from Boston to Liverpool, and not one of the deaf mutes got seasick. This caused the ship's doctor to put on his thinking cap. He stuffed the ears of a seasick voyager with cotton, and the voyager, thus deafened, got right up from his sick bed and ate a seven-course dinner. Since that time it has been realized that the stomach nerves and the nerves of hearing are in sympathy, and by dulling the hearing of the seasick their illness in many cases has been made to disappear."

"Where's some cotton? It's worth trying," said the pale one, as he hurried away.—Answers.

Police Officer Deliberately Made Boy Commit Great Wrong.

HE PAID HIM FOR IT

An officer of the Fort Wayne police force concealed himself in a dark doorway early last evening, beckoned to a small boy who was passing on the street, held a whispered conversation with him and the lad departed.

Passers-by thought the officer was engaged in the discharge of his duties and that he was reproving the lad, but such, gentle reader, is not the case, for the groundwork for the most diabolical plot that has ever cropped out in the department was laid in those whispered words.

Carefully keeping, or keeping carefully, within the shadows of the tall buildings the lad crept slowly along, casting furtive glances behind now and then to see if the stealth he worked into the act was creating more than passing comment. It was not.

Approaching the bulletin board of a certain newspaper office he took from beneath his ragged jacket something he had concealed there, his hand shot out and when he drew it back the crime to which he had been incited was committed and he stole softly back to the doorway where he received his pay and departed.

Until the board of safety has had a chance to investigate this no names will be used in connection with it and more than to warn Charlie Spillner that the finger of suspicion is pointing at him, the matter will be allowed to rest.

When the small boy approached the bulletin board it told a woeful tale for the policemen of a certain diamond engagement that took place in the afternoon at League park. Before the small boy had been incited to crime statistics read something like this:

Policemen	6
Firemen	25

When the small boy's dirty hand had done its dastardly work the thing went like this:

Policemen	6
Firemen	5

It is whispered that Spillner parted with a perfectly good nickel to get the urchin to mutilate the returns. Anyhow they were mutilated and it is certain the firemen would have had no interest in said mutilation.

Preceded by a brass band hastily corraled by Gart Shober and with Assistant Fire Chief George Jasper and Police Captain Mart Rundell leading the procession the policemen and firemen marched to League park yesterday where they engaged in bloody warfare. First estimates on the disaster gives the figures as 25 to 6, but the matter has been referred to the state accounting board.

Policemen are not bragging today about their prowess on the diamond, so it is not hard to guess who got the twenty-five and who got the six. About 4,000 tickets were printed and most of them were sold so that the principal object has been served in that a nice sum was realized to divide between three hospitals.

Details of the harrowing affair have been omitted at the request of Capt. Dan Kintz and the firemen did not insist. Arnica, Iodine and such remedies were freely used today and last night by both crews.

Umpire Dornick escaped alive and with little kicking against his decisions. He went into the game determined to help out the police as he felt there is less danger of his house burning than there is of arrest, but he couldn't get through with it.

Jimmy Schwartz, little son of George Schwartz, of Engine company No. 2, pitched the first ball. The midget hurler took his long wind-up before he delivered the ball and was roundly applauded for his work.

FOUR MILLION ACRES SURVEYED.

During August the topographic engineers of the United States geological survey made field surveys of 6,517 square miles—over 4,000,000 acres—in various parts of the country, ranging from swamps to high mountain areas. The surveys comprise actual map making on the ground, and the putting on the map of every natural and artificial feature in its exact relative position as it actually exists in the area surveyed.

Although the Central league has two players on the world's series eligible list, neither Richard Marquard or Paddy Livingston ever played in Fort Wayne. However, Bade Myers, one of the most popular managers who ever trod a base path in Fort Wayne, started Marquard on his career, and gave him the early training that made him the pitching wonder of the year.

Livingston was at one time a member of the Wheeling team, but the only time his club played here while he was on the list was at a time when he had been called to his home in Cleveland. Marquard and he both graduated to faster company through the Indianapolis club.

The fact that the series will be played in the east will keep Fort Wayne people away from the games, except here and there where business men can manage to arrange engagements in the east at the same time the Giants and Athletics are engaged in warfare. There are among the fans of this city a number of men whose means permit indulgence in world's series scraps and they slip off quietly to the scene of war and stick around a day or two and charge their absence up to business.

Some hope was expressed here that the Cubs would win, not because they were favorites, but games in Chicago held out a chance for local fandom to see one or two games and this sentiment fathered the hope that Chance would lead his team to victory.

COBB IS TRULY KING.

Leads in Batting and Base Running With Unequaled Record.

Ty Cobb played his last American league championship game of the season yesterday, Manager Jennings excusing him from playing in the series at St. Louis that he may try out some of the numerous minor league recruits corralled by Bobby Lowe and other Tiger scouts.

Unofficial averages show Cobb to lead the American league in batting with an average of .417. He also leads in the number of runs scored with 149, in hits with 247 and in stolen bases with 82. His record in the number of hits made beat all existing records, Willie Keeler holding the record since 1897 with 243. The Georgian's base stealing record is also another wonderful one. His record all around stamps the fleet-footed Detroit centerfielder the greatest player of all time—as Comiskey said of him two years ago.

OUR QUICKSILVER PRODUCTION.

The world's production of quicksilver last year was 3,747 short tons, of which the United States produced 773 short tons. Quicksilver is usually quoted in "flasks," a flask containing 75 pounds. The American production therefore represents 20,601 flasks. Of this amount California furnished 17,211 flasks. In 1850 the quicksilver production of that state was 7,723 flasks, but California's greatest production was in 1881, when the yield was 60,851 flasks.

In 1910 only two countries produced more quicksilver than the United States—Italy, 882 tons, and Spain, 1,102 tons. These and other statistics are given in an advance chapter on quicksilver from Mineral Recourses of the United States, 1910, by H. D. McCaskey, of the United States geological survey. A copy of this chapter may be obtained upon application to the Director of the Survey, Washington, D. C.

FARRELL NOT IN SHAPE TO PLAY

President Ebbets Takes the Trouble to Deny the Zanesville Report.

PLAYER NOT WANTED

President C. H. Ebbetts, of the Brooklyn baseball club, takes occasion to deny in a letter to The Sentinel that he wanted the money back he paid Zanesville because Frank "Red" Farrell refused to sign at the salary offered him.

Mr. Ebbetts states that his reason for asking that the sale be cancelled is that the player could not report to the Brooklyn club in proper condition and thus lacked the ambition which he considers essential for miner leaguers to possess if they expect to make good in the majors.

Farrell lost his opportunity to play with Brooklyn through his own fault, as it is not likely that Mr. Ebbetts would take the trouble to deny the story unless he knew the facts in the case. Zanesville directors needed the money and, as the story about Farrell's refusal to sign for the money offered originated in Pottertown, it is likely they gave it out.

* * *

Frank Hafford, who played third base for Zanesville last season, is not dead. He is very much alive and is trying to make the national commission force the Potter directors to pay him $250.

He says he signed an agreement to play with Louisville with the understanding that if he were sold the purchase money should be his. He says Zanesville promised to pay the sum he asks and he wants it.

At Zanesville it is contended that the management made no agreement to pay money for Hafford, as he was taken as a loan for the balance of the season. When he failed to show any class he was returned to Louisville, his claims against the local club being settled before he left. Hafford was never even signed to a Zanesville contract, it is claimed. The decision of the commission in the matter is not feared here.

A man named Hafford, ball player and a former Louisville employe, died in the east, but his first cognomen was Leo.

* * *

South Bend's baseball company has been incorporated and it is likely that the city will be in the Central league again next season. It is to be hoped the town will get back as Fort Wayne needs a rival and the Bend is about the only place that can supply one.

If a franchise is bought a mighty task will face the manager whoever he may be. He will have nothing to start with—not even a bat bag or a pair of shoes, and he must corral fifteen players of Central league caliber in one season. Marty Hogan tried to do this once and made a miserable failure of it.

Eddie Wheeler is watching things in South Bend with the hope that he will be chosen as manager in 1912 and the toga may fall on him as he gave the city its only pennant and is popular with the fans.

SOMETHING ABOUT LEADERS WHO WILL BATTLE IN WORLD'S SERIES

John J. McGraw.

You can talk about your Mathewsons, Marquards, Meyers, Merkles, and all the other stars in that Giant outfit, or probably better—all the other members of that Giant outfit, but when all has been recorded, standing head and shoulders over everybody and everything is the figure of John J. McGraw, arch enemy of umpires and staunch defender of ball players.

A man who is regarded as one of the wisest club owners in the big league said a day or so ago:

"On paper the Athletics are far the superior of the Giants. Still, the Athletics will go against the wisest manager in the game."

McGraw will win the championship of the National league with a team of mediocre players. He has two good pitchers, a fine first sacker and a catcher who is above the average. Outside of that there is not much to the Giants.

Even with Marquard and Mathewson and Merkle, the Giants would not be higher than the second division without McGraw. For if it had not been for McGraw, Merkle would not be a star today, and if McGraw had not kept Marquard and defended him against the criticisms of everybody having knowledge of National league matters Marquard would probably not have had a better record this year than in 1910.

Fight, fight and more fight is the motto of McGraw. He has fought against all conceivable odds and he is fighting all the time. He has created a team of fighting men, ever aggressive, a team built to play other clubs off their feet and "bully" their way through.

When the Giants and Athletics meet, McGraw will be after Mack's men. There will be "bullying" galore. The Athletics will have to take more guff than they have ever been asked to take. Baker and Thomas will be the subjects of most of the abuse and most of it will come from McGraw.

Although "Muggsy" says he will lay no plans for his battle until the series actually begins, McGraw has fully made up his mind what he intends to do.

McGraw has a tongue sharpened for repartee. In any sort of an argument McGraw can sting home more sarcasm in one minute than the runner-up in that department of the game can get through in five.

Connie Mack.

"Barring accident, we will go into the world's series in better condition than we have been at any time in recent years," says Connie Mack, manager of the world's champions.

"Bender is rounding into his best form, while McInnes' arm is healing rapidly and he will positively play in the series.

"I shall work all of my pitchers against the Nationals, but none of them will be asked to go the entire route. Four or five innings for each will be sufficient to keep them on edge, and then we will have some real hard games with the All-Star team next week.

"I cannot make any predictions nor claims, but if the Giants beat us they will know they have been in some ball games. There is no way to underestimate our team. It has shown that it is a winner and it will go into this series with every confidence.

"Much has been said about the base running proclivities of the Giants, and I grant you this is their strong suit, but they will not be running wild on us. Our catchers' records show that base running against us is not easy. There is but one player in this league who runs bases against us, and that is Cobb. But I don't recall that McGraw has any Cobbs any more than has any one else. So far as pulling off inside baseball, I will take my chances. You do not see anything new on the ball field in these days. All teams play about the same kind of ball when you come down to it.

"I believe that we will be able to do our best in the series. We are taking things slowly now and not taking many chances and expect to toe the scratch ready to put up the best article of ball that is in us. I never saw a ball team in better fettle. We have proven that we can hit and it remains to be seen if the New York pitchers can stop us. I don't think so, and I believe that my pitchers will prove more troublesome to them than is expected."

Mack said that he expected Ira Thomas to do all the catching, and he also stated that Thomas was in better form now than he had ever been before. "He has been turning base runners back," said Connie.

FRESH FROM SPORT FIELD

With Hal Chase alternating between second and center and Quinn in the box, the Highlanders went down before the Athletics and the Mackmen hung up their hundredth victory for the season.

Yost put a little speed into his Michigan squad with the result that Wenner is out with a sprained ankle and one of the scrubs broke his nose.

With Maxwell pitching the Giants made eight hits count more than Brooklyn was able to get out of eleven hits. Dolly Stark played third base and has now been on every position in the infield except first.

Unnerved by criticism on account of an accident at Syracuse, Lee Oldfield will not participate in the twenty-mile race at Fairmount park, Philadelphia.

George Memste is having a hard time making weight for his fight with Eddie Murphy at Gary tonight.

Tom McCrary will present Joe Jeanette and Sam Langford in a twenty-round go at Los Angeles November 11.

Jack Lewis is playing such a good game at second that he appears in the lineup regularly and yesterday he made one of the eleven hits and also scored a run.

Miss Lottie Eldridge, Formerly of This City, Dies in South Dakota.

Mrs. F. E. Stoneburner, of 1016 Nelson street, received word Thursday night of the death of her sister, Miss Lottie Eldridge, formerly of Fort Wayne, which occurred at Michael, S. D., from typhoid fever. The deceased was born in Fort Wayne, and made this city her home until two years ago, when she went west. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Ruby, of Arcola, and five sisters: Mrs. F. E. Stoneburner, Mrs. Lizzie Harshbarger, Mrs. Emma Ruby and Miss Anna Eldridge, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. A. Tousley. The remains will be brought to Fort Wayne for interment.

INTERESTING BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Ten thousand dollars lose or draw looks good enough to Frank Gotch to induce him to say he will talk it over with Zybszko's manager in Chicago tomorrow night.

Punch Knoll, Vet boss, has invested part of his savings in a fine home at Evansville, close to his mother's residence, and declares he intends to continue his residence there.

Mr. and Mrs. Comiskey celebrated their 29th wedding anniversary Saturday night, while attending the field meet at the Sox park. The fans wish them another 29 years of the same kind of joy.

Jack Coombs, of the Athletics, is about as busy a ball player as there is these days. He is in demand for the banquet table, plays golf, writes opinions for newspaper men, and is rehearsing for his coming vaudeville engagement.

With Chief Bender and Chief Meyers facing each other in the coming world's championship, the white race will have an object lesson showing that the red man is fully as capable as his white brother. Both Indians are college graduates.

The Vets put in only one draft for a ball player and lost him according to Secretary Farrel's announcement of the Class B drafts. The Vets tried to secure Southpaw Orth, of the Hastings, (Neb.) team but in the drafting he was allotted to the Peoria club of the Three-Eye league.

Larry Doyle, of the Giants, is the man who taught the Athletics the deaf and dumb code by which the American leaguers are supposed to pass their signs around. This was the secret of the defeat of the Cubs last year, but the Mackmen will not be able to use their code against the Giants, as Doyle will understand it.

The Kitty league is believed to hold the record for the sale of ball players for a small sum. The Jackson, Tenn., club of that organization, sold Players Gossage, Dowell, Gust and "Crazy Snake" Calbert to Terre Haute, Ind., of the Central league, the consideration being the payment of back salaries due the men from the Jackson club by the Terre Haute management.

Ed Walsh, champion fungo hitter, will not wear all-star togs against the champion Athletics in the series starting next Sunday afternoon at Newark, N. J., because President Comiskey wants his headliner in Chicago to nurse his bread-winning right arm for other and more important duties, particularly in the removal of that long-enduring feud between the Sox and Cubs.

Now Ready for Your Choosing
500 Fresh, New Dresses

Within the week just 500 dresses have been added to our stock. Everyone of the five hundred showing some new fashionable feature—some late wrinkle in designing. Individuality characterizes each of these lovely models, from the simple little frock of serge, to exquisite gowns of beauteous fabrics for evening. Your own dressmaker could not fit you better than these ready-to-wear dresses will—nor give the style touch that they possess. And the cost will probably be much less. Just look at them and see.

Smart Little Serge Dresses

There are so many different models among these serge and woolen dresses for women and young girls that we cannot attempt to describe them. Some have large revers of striped or contrasting satin, others have quaint round collars of lace and most of them show the new short waisted effects so popular. Splendid values, priced from

Wunderhose
KNITTING MILLS CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

School Days Bring Many Problems

You owe it to your children to see that they are well dressed and comfortable. How can it be done on the least money? Stockings have been the greatest trouble. You know the kind that look well until the first recess. If your boy is the right kind of boy, he plays so fast he forgets all about his stockings. To grow he must play that way. Give him the kind of stockings that take care of themselves—

Wunderhose

Leap-frog, hop-scotch, foot ball, and many other games need have no terrors for the mother who has bought her son Wunderhose. Let him scuffle, slide, jump all over the play ground—no strain, no holes, no ravel. These wonderful stockings are made from Wunderyarn; dyed with Wunderdye. Wunderyarns are spun from the largest and toughest cotton fibre known. They are twisted and combed until they have the strength of rope, with the "feel" of silk. Only double threads of Wunderyarn—no single ones whatever—are used in Wunderhose. The heels, toes and knees are reinforced, and remember the strength of re-inforcing yarns does not depend on the thickness. That is one of the reasons why the heels and toes of Wunderhose are so soft and pliable and yet so strong. In Wunderhose families the mother helps her children with their books when other mothers are slaving with the darning needles.

WAS BORN IN OLD COUNCIL HOUSE

Death Claims Mrs. L. T. Bourie, a Pioneer of Fort Wayne.

WAS ILL ONE WEEK

Mrs. Ophelia Bourie, wife of the late L. T. Bourie, a pioneer resident of Fort Wayne, died Thursday evening at 8:40 o'clock at her home, 901 Edgewater avenue, at the age of 78 years, 6 months and 21 days. Death was due to malarial fever complicated with pneumonia and followed an illness of one week's duration.

The deceased was born in Fort Wayne in the old council house March 15, 1833, and was a daughter of 'Squire John D. Dubois, one of the early pioneer settlers. She was united in marriage to L. T. Bourie, who was also born in the old council house, October 1, 1855, and her husband preceded her in death eight years ago. Six children, all of whom survive, were born to the union. They are: Louis T., George W. and Clinton D. Bourie, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. J. W. Fowler and Miss Anna Bourie, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Charles E. Betts, of Sidney, O. Three grandchildren, Helen and Ruth Bourie, of Fort Wayne, and Mildred King, of Cheyenne, Wyo., also survive. The deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian church.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence, Rev. Henry B. Master officiating. Services private.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Zimmerly.—Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Zimmerly will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 1202 Fairfield avenue, and will be private. Services at the Emanuel Lutheran church at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. William Moll officiating. Interment at Concordia cemetery. Six grandchildren of the deceased will act as pall bearers. Friends wishing to view the remains may do so until noon Saturday.

Auth.—Funeral services for Catherine Auth will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence, 427 Fourth street, thence to the Church of the Precious Blood at 9 o'clock.

DISCUSSED FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 6.—Continuing its review of the accomplishments of Methodism during the past ten years and the discussion of the problems which now confront the church, the fourth Ecumenical conference of the denomination today turned its attention to foreign missions.

For this branch of its work, as well as in those considered during the first two days of this decennial meeting, it appeared that the need from the viewpoint of veteran workers, was as much for "a great spiritual awakening" within the church itself as for further perfection of the mechanism of the organizations, whose membership totals many millions. Today's speakers emphasized as vitally important, the necessity of making the spirituality of the present members more intensive, instead of seeking primarily the lengthening of the membership rolls.

WANT NEW JUDGE FOR M'NAMARAS

Attorney Darrow Confers With the Los Angeles Jurist About It.

FIND NEW EVIDENCE

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 6.—Movements by attorneys for the McNamara brothers, alleged dynamiters, indicated that they would file a motion for a jurist other than Justice Bordwell to preside at the trial of their clients. Clarence S. Darrow, leading counsel for the defense, and associate counsel conferred with the jurist yesterday. At times voices raised in anger were heard in the corridor outside. In leaving they told Judge Bordwell that they would see him again Saturday and Mr. Darrow said later that he probably would give out at that time the decision of himself and associates regarding an application for a change of judges.

Mr. Darrow expressed doubt as to whether or not Mrs. Ortie E. McManigal would be placed on the stand.

Word was received here today that W. E. Griffith, chief of police of Kansas City, would be a witness in the trial of the McNamara brothers. It was learned that Griffin would bring here alarm clock devices which are alleged to have been used on bombs planted with the intention of destroying railroad bridges near Kansas City.

JOE HAUSBACH BADLY HURT

Well Known Wabash Machinist Loses Two of His Fingers.

LIEUT. J. N. NEUFER HAS RIB BROKEN

Fell in Climbing a Fence at Bourbon—Shop and Railroads.

Joseph Hausbach, of 443 Poplar street, a machinist at the Wabash shops, met with a distressing accident this morning. He operates one of the large wheel lathes in the machine shop and as he attempted to throw the lever to put the machine in action, his foot slipped and he fell just as the machine started, with his right hand on the large cog wheel. Two of his fingers were drawn in and Mr. Hausbach saved the hand by bracing himself against the frame work of the machine and pulling with all his might, literally tearing the fingers in two. The first and second fingers were crushed and had to be amputated at the second joint. The operation was performed at the St. Joseph hospital by the company's surgeon. Mr. Hausbach has worked at his trade in the Wabash shops nearly a quarter of a century and this was the first accident of any consequence he met with.

Why Wet Shampoos Are Injurious to Hair

[Guide to Beauty.]

"Avoid wet shampoos, if you would have soft, lustrous hair and plenty of it. More or less 'free' alkali in shampoo mixtures robs the scalp of its necessary oil, and this, in a measure, causes hair to grow dull, brittle and unmanageable.

"The dry shampoo is rapidly gaining favor because of its cleansing and invigorating effect on both hair and scalp. If 4 ounces either of orris root or corn meal and 4 ounces of therox are mixed together and a tablespoonful sprinkled over the scalp, then brushed well through and out of the hair, all traces of dust and dandruff will be removed, and the hair will take on a silken sheen and richness of color impossible by any other method."

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

Pennsylvania Association Men to Meet at Bradford.

Secretary W. S. Whitbeck, of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., will go to Bradford, Ohio, next Tuesday to attend the Pennsylvania Y. M. C. A. system conference, which will be held there, opening at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and closing at 4:30 in the evening. The opening exercise will be conducted by L. W. Messer, general secretary of Chicago. Other numbers on the program will be "The Securing and Retaining of Members" by A. G. Bookwalter, state secretary of Ohio, which will be followed by discussion, and "The Significance of Membership," by John F. Moore, international railroad secretary, which will also be followed by discussion. The inspection of the Bradford association building will be an interesting part of the proceedings. A. B. Minear, international secretary, who will be here Monday, will accompany Mr. Whitbeck to Bradford.

AUTO COMPETITION FELT.

Cuts Deeply Into Earnings of Steam Roads.

A statistician has figured out that the steam railways during last summer lost a business that would have aggregated $18,000,000 by automobile competition. This authority says that at two fashionable summer resorts in August 2,224 people out of a total of 4,167 who arrived there were carried by automobiles. To reach these resorts by rail would have cost in fares an average of $15 per passenger, or a total of $19,000, which he considers the amount lost by the railways through travel by automobile. Taking this as a basis upon which to figure, the statistician figures out that the railways of America have suffered a loss of $18,000,000 the past year. To offset the loss in passenger fares, however, is the revenue derived from transportation of automobiles, which is said to be about $10,000,000 per annum.

LIEUT. NEUFER INJURED.

Fell and Broke Rib and Bruised Legs.

Lieut. J. N. Neufer, of the Pennsylvania police force, who was assigned duties at Bourbon yesterday, where the county fair is being held, sustained a fracture of one of his ribs and some painful bruises on his side and one of his legs. Neufer was in the act of climbing a high fence with a view of making time in reaching a point where he was needed, when he fell with the result named. He was able to walk with the assistance of canes and came home on No. 38 last night. Dr. C. P. Stemen, the company's surgeon, attended him last night and today.

MEET AT DUNKIRK SUNDAY.

Officers of Fire Association to Gather There.

President F. G. Duryea and First Vice President A. F. Rogge, of the Northeastern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association, will go to Dunkirk, Ind., Sunday to attend a meeting of the officials. Among the business to come before the meeting will be the appointment of an executive board and the various committees and to make arrangements for the annual tournament next June

CHANGE IN STOREKEEPERS.

Earl Harmon Succeeds H. W. Birmingham.

Division Storekeeper H. W. Hurst, of the Wabash, has appointed Earl Harmon, of Montpelier, Ohio, storekeeper at Peru to succeed H. W. Birmingham, who has decided to retire from railway work. The change becomes effective next Monday. Mr. Harmon has been assistant storekeeper at Montpelier for some months and is said to be well versed in affairs of the department.

DISTRIBUTED $5,400 IN PRIZES.

The Pennsylvania railroad made its awards Thursday for maintaining the best section of track throughout the year. These awards were the result of numerous inspection trips over the lines during the year and among the methods employed to learn the exact condition of the line and surface, glasses of water were placed on the window sills and the "spills" recorded. A machine on the floor of the car recorded the latteral movements of the car, as well as the jolts up and down caused by depressions in the rails. The first prize, $800 for the supervisor and $400 for his assistant, went to C. M. Wisman and William F. Miller, who have charge of the track between Tullytown, Pa., and Deans, N. J. Premiums of $800 and $200 first and second were awarded to four supervisors and four assistant supervisors also.

GEORGE HESS GOES EAST.

George F. Hess, superintendent of motive power of the Kansas City, Southern railroad, passed through the city on Wabash train No. 28 at 10 o'clock this morning, en route east on railway business. His father, P. J. Hess, of the Pennsylvania shops, and brother, W. J. Hess, of the postoffice, were at the train to meet him. George Hess has been very successful in railway work, and there are but few men as young as he in so responsible a position. He learned his trade in the railway shops in Fort Wayne.

INSPECTION PARTY RETURNS.

All the Fort Wayne people who were out with the inspection parties on the Pennsylvania lines east and west of Pittsburg arrived home at 4 o'clock today, somewhat wearied by the trip. Included in the list of the returning ones is Motive Power Supt. T. W. Demarest, Supt. W. M. Wardrop, of the Pennsylvania; Supt. B. H. Hudson, of the G. R. & I.; Division Engineers F. M. Graham and C. L. Barnaby; Chief Clerk W. L. Wilt, Assistant Division Engineer A. C. Watson and several supervisors.

KELLOGG TO PERE MARQUETTE.

A friend of W. L. Kellogg, superintendent of motive power of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, is in receipt of news of his resignation with that company, effective October 8. Mr. Kellogg has accepted a similar position on the Marquette. He will probably be succeeded on the C., H. & D. by H. H. Hale, at present a sales agent for the Railston Steel Car company, but formerly connected in an official way with the C., H. & D.

DINING CAR BOSSES.

The Dining Car Superintendents' association will hold its convention in Cincinnati October 19, 20 and 21. Prominent among the members of the association who will attend are E. W. Westlake, of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, and F. J. Moore, of the Nickel Plate, each well known in railway circles in Fort Wayne. W. C. Cooper, of the Canadian Pacific, is the president of the association.

THREE MEETINGS MONDAY.

There will be three meetings at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. Monday night. They are the annual railroad Y. M. C. A. meeting, the regular monthly meeting of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. and the annual meeting of the central board. International Secretary A. B. Minear, of Chicago, and State Secretary E. E. Stacy will be in attendance at these meetings.

THROWN OFF HIS BIKE.

B. O. Ferry was thrown to the pavement and had one of his hands badly skinned and sprained yesterday when the wheel he was riding struck a stone and turned aside. Mr. Ferry was en route home from the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop when the accident happened. He is employed there as a brick mason.

PENNSYLVANIA PAY DAY.

The Pennsylvania pay master will be in Fort Wayne on his regular wage distributing mission October 18, 19 and 20. He will arrive —ut 10 o'clock on the morning of the 18th and leave about the same hour on the morning of the 20th.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

F. P. Burg, a painter, has been transferred from the east car shops to the down town paint shop.

Machinist W. H. Miller, of the Pennsylvania shops, is kept from his work by the illness of his wife.

A. C. Hoffman resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. He was injured last week.

John O. Bryant, who had been sick a week, resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

E. W. Mitchell, a painter at the Pennsylvania shops, has recovered from an illness that kept him from work a few days.

Machinist John Goehringer, who was married recently, resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

H. E. G. Heine, Pennsylvania boilermaker, has returned from Middlepoint, O., where he did some work for the company.

Machinist George Emrich, who was married a week ago in New York, and his bride will arrive in Fort Wayne this evening.

Engineer William M. Barden, who had been off on a thirty days' leave of absence, reported for work on the Pennsylvania this morning.

O. S. Adams, V. L. Hursh, C. F. Brown, Peter Nueman, R. W. Shaw, J. A. Fraine and H. A. Lammatsch, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Mrs. Hurst, wife of Division Storekeeper H. W. Hurst, of the Wabash, arrived home this morning. She was visiting in St. Joseph, Mo., two weeks.

President W. H. Canniff, of the Nickel Plate, and a party passed through the city on train No. 2 yesterday afternoon, en route from Chicago to Cleveland.

The Pennsylvania will have a special train carrying delegates from the west to the convention of the Street Railway Employes' association next Sunday about 4 o'clock.

William Thielker, who was slightly injured by a fall at the Pennsylvania boiler shop yesterday, reported for work this morning. He was not seriously hurt.

W. M. Osterman and D. Denehy, linemen, have returned to the city after spending several days at Monroeville, putting up lights for the Pennsylvania inspection party and taking them down after the party had departed.

Engineer C. E. Enslen and his family have gone to Elida, O., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Enslen's father, J. A. Askins, whose death came suddenly and unexpectedly yesterday. Mr. Askins was here visiting his daughter early in the week and was at that time in his usual health.

The Wabash company will relay the tracks in the yards at Peru with an 80-pound rail and will replace the ties that are worn and make other improvements before cold weather sets in. The old rails will be used on unimportant sidings on the line.

Trainmaster C. E. Wells, of the Wabash, has issued a bulletin advertising vacancies for brakemen on runs Nos. 72 and 73 and 74 and 75 with Sunday lay-over at Peru, and on runs 70 and 71 with Sunday lay-over at Fort Wayne. Applications for these runs will be received up to Oct. 11.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana company has in contemplation the building of some side tracks at Kendallville. The manufacturers, grain dealers and merchants have requested this improvement and it is said the company will give it. The Lake Shore company is also to build some new sidings in Kendallville.

Owing to a freight wreck on the line of the Chicago and Erie, which blockaded the tracks between Decatur and Huntington, two passenger trains were detoured through this city by way of the Wabash and G. R. & I. and sent out over the Wabash at 3 p. m. and the eastbound train received here by the latter road at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Lake Shore trainmen employed between Cleveland and Buffalo have been granted permission to carry revolvers for defense. Following many hold-ups railroad men petitioned for this permission and after consideration it has been granted by the officials. The northwest section of Pennsylvania is a rendezvous, it is said, for thugs, yeggs and toughs on account of the lack of workhouses and much trouble has been experienced by railroad men.

L. B. Hendricks, agent for the Nickel Plate at Lorain, has resigned his position with that company to accept one of district passenger agent of the Chicago & Northwestern with headquarters at Pittsburg and a sub-office at Buffalo. Mr. Hendricks has been in charge of the Nickel Plate office at Lorain for a period of three years.

During the last three years, seventy-one deaths were caused in England by ammonia, thirty-three of which were accidents and thirty-eight suicides. Hereafter every bottle in which ammonia is sold must be labelled with the words, "not to be taken," in addition to the word "poisonous."

INFLAMED KIDNEYS

Medical writers declare it incurable after the sixth month whether albumenous or not.

The average man prefers to think of it as "kidney trouble" and lets it go but the census shows this appalling fact—out of 63,000 deaths from kidney troubles the last census year over nine-tenths of them (58,000) took the form called "Bright's Disease" although it is quite probable that nine-tenths of these up to the last moment thought of it as and called it "kidney trouble" when as a matter of fact the only possible hope laid through a specific for Bright's Disease.

There never was one until Fulton worked out his Renal emollient (Fulton's Renal Compound).

Since then inflammation of the kidneys whether albumenous or not or whether called "kidney trouble" or "Bright's Disease" or whether six months or six years old commonly yields. If you have had kidney trouble over six months no matter what you call it it is the only hope. Efficiency 87%, where patients do not wait until bedridden although some of them recover. It can be had in Fort Wayne at the D. & N. Pharmacy, 624 Calhoun St.

We desire to hear from and advise with patients not noting the usual improvement by the third bottle. Literature mailed free. Write John J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal.

JEWISH SABBATH SCHOOL TO OPEN

First Meeting for Registration Next Sunday Morning.

PARENTS TO PLEDGE

The Sabbath school of Achduth Vesholom congregation will open for registration next Sunday morning, October 8th. All children that wish to enter should present themselves in the vestry room of the synagogue, corner Harrison and Wayne streets, at 10 o'clock.

Rabbi William Rice, the superintendent, announces that parents who desire to send their children are requested to send with them a note signed by both father and mother, in which these pledge themselves on their honor, that they will see to it that their children attend the Sabbath school regularly and conscientiously, that they will interest themselves in their children's Sabbath school work, and in every manner possible encourage their religious studies and assist them in applying the principles taught at this school to their daily life. Such a note will be required before the child is admitted. Children applying without them will be sent home to get their parents' written pledge.

SQUARE DEAL FOR THE VOTER.

Fairness and Impartiality to Rule in Ohio Elections.

Columbus, O., Oct. 6.—That fairness and impartiality is to be one of the chief features of the coming election is shown by one of the minor changes in the posters carrying instructions to voters as to how they shall mark their ballots, etc.

In former years the instructions provided, that in the cases of blind voters, those unable to write or those unfitted to do so physically they should be assistid by "two election judges." The instructions for 1911 provide that in such cases "two election judges of different political parties shall assist the voter in marking his ballot." The change was ordered by Secretary of State Graves.

DIVORCES CONVICT; RELENTS.

Wife Remarries Former Husband in Prison After Obtaining Pardon.

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 6.—After having divorced her husband and caused him to be sent to the penitentiary for mistreating her, Mrs. Horace Schwartz, of Hutchison, Kan., married him again yesterday in the warden's office of the Kansas state prison.

A year ago Mrs. Schwartz prosecuted her husband. After he was sent to prison she got a divorce, placed her two children in an orphanage and returned to her birthplace in the east. Last month she went to Topeka and obtained a pardon for her husband. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz departed for Hutchison to get the children.

FINDS WORST ROADS HERE.

In the course of an automobile trip of three months, in which he has covered several thousand miles, Frank Hamilton Boyd, of Chicago, reached Fort Wayne last night and was a guest at the Anthony hotel.

Mr. Boyd's route led him southward from Chicago for a long swing into Dixie and he is returning by way of Ohio and Indiana points. He says the best roads he found in the entire trip were in Kentucy, while the worst encountered were those between Lima, O., and Fort Wayne. Mr. Boyd left this morning for Chicago.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CHRONIC ULCERS

Only by removing the cause can any chronic Ulcer or Old Sore be cured. No one will question the truthfulness of this statement. The cause is always from an inward source, never an outward influence, and therefore the only possible way to get rid of these places is to take internal treatment. Pure blood is the one unfailing cure for chronic ulcers; just as long as the circulation is allowed to remain in an impure condition the place will be kept open from the constant discharge of impurities into it from the blood. But pure blood will change this condition and the flesh tissues will be nourished and made healthy, and then nature will promptly and permanently heal the ulcer. S. S. S. is recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers and therein lies its power to cure old ulcers and sores. It goes into the circulation, and removes every trace of impurity or infectious matter, and so enriches this vital fluid that it nourishes all flesh tissues instead of irritating them with impurities. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood and the place has healed over it is not a surface cure, but the ulcer is filled in with healthy flesh from the bottom. Free books and any medical advice will be sent to all sufferers who will write us. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

THE NEW YORK OF LONG AGO.

Dutch Colonists Made it Famous for Its Flowers.

("Colonial Days in Old New York.")

She had a recreation, a delight, the care of

"A garden through whose latticed gates
The imprisoned pinks and tulips gazed."

A trim, stiff little garden, which often graced the narrow front door yard; a garden perhaps of a single flower bed surrounded by aromatic herbs for medicinal and culinary use, but homelike and beloved as such gardens ever are, and especially beloved as such gardens are by the Dutch.

Many were the tulip bulbs and "coronation" pink roots that had been brought or sent over from Holland, and were affectionately cherished as reminders of the far-away Fatherland. The enthusiastic traveler, Van der Donck, wrote that by 1653 Netherlanders had already blooming in their garden borders "white and red roses, stock roses, cornelian roses, elegantine, jenoffelins, gillyflowers, different varieties of fine tulips, crown-imperials, white lilies, anemones, bare-dames, violets, marigolds, summer-sots, clove trees." Garden flowers of native growth were "sunflowers, red and yellow lilies, morning stars, bell flowers, red and white and yellow maritoffles." I do not know what all these "flower gentilles" were, but surely it was no dull array of blossoms, nor were their glories dimmed because they opened ever by the side of the homely cabbages and lettuce, the humble cucumbers and beans, that were equally beloved and tended by the garden maker.

WHOLLY UNFAIR SAYS DR. GARNER

Flays Society for Double Standard on Moral Issue.

WOMAN IS SUFFERER

Using as his subject "The Two Standards," Dr. John Q. Garner, in a lecture at Library hall Thursday evening, unmercifully flayed the society that permits a man to indulge his immoral passions and makes an outcast of the innocent girl or woman who is his victim.

In his address Dr. Garner said in part: "There is a standard in society on moral questions, that measures men and women unequally. Take the young and innocent society girl, who under promise of marriage falls. The man forsakes the girl and is received back into society and his sins forgotten. The girl though the least to blame, is made an outcast, shunned and denied entry into the homes of her former friends. The result often is that she gradually sinks lower and lower until the end comes in a life of shame. This is the standard that prevails not only in the United States, but all over the civilized world. It is granted that a young man must sow his wild oats, but little thought is taken of the girl or woman, his victim, who does the reaping, except to sneer at her.

"Take the case of a husband who leaves his wife and home in an entanglement with some women, who in these modern times is termed an 'affinity.' Tiring of the woman he returns home, where he is received with open arms by the wife, who in her blindness censures only the woman, convinced that the poor, erring husband is not to blame, but was led astray by the wiles of the woman. When a young man finishes sowing his wild oats and joins the church, he is welcomed with smiles and gladness and the fatted calf is killed for the occasion. But what of the girl who has been led astray? She is received into the church, it is true, and the minister expresses his gladness that she has reformed, but no fatted calf is killed for her and often in the eyes of the other members of the congregation she remains an outcast.

"Mothers knowing that these young men are libertines and rakes of the worst kind, receive them into their homes and permit them to associate with their daughters, allowing them to remain at the house until ten, eleven and twelve o'clock, and to come as often as they like."

At this point in his lecture Dr. Garner outlined the perils of diseases, and their far-reaching results, which are often visited upon the innocent wife or offspring. In touching on this subject he said that the only remedy is to educate the people to this terrible peril. "In the future," said Dr. Garner, "the father, before giving his daughter's hand in marriage, will demand of the young man a certificate of health from the highest medical authorities."

In continuing Dr. Garner said: "The mistress of a French king once said, 'Every man is chivalrious enough to protect a woman against every one except himself.' In olden times when a man seduced a woman against her will he was stoned to death, and if the woman did not resist she was stoned to death with the man. In these modern times the woman is stoned to death and the man is crowned.

"In the woman he is going to marry," said Dr. Garner, "a man expects purity, and on the slightest hint that anything is wrong he will desert her before the marriage. Woman should demand this same chastity in man, and it is in their power to stop this evil that exists by refusing to marry men who live the lives of rakes and libertines."

Dr. Garner concluded his lecture with a series of lantern slides showing the ravages of disease on men, women and children, which came as a result of immoral lives. Following Dr. Garner's lecture Prof. Allen T. Poulsen gave an illustrated lecture on "White Slave Traffic in the United States."

WASHINGTON, A CITY BEAUTIFUL

Since 1868 the Government Has Done Much for the Capital.

(New York Sun.)

Gen. John A. Johnston, who is one of the three commissioners that govern the District of Columbia—with assistance from congress—thinks that Washington is already the most beautiful capital in the world, and says it is rapidly becoming more so. General Johnston is on his way back to Washington from a vacation spent in the Thousand Islands.

"The real development of Washington along national capital lines did not begin until 1868," General Johnston said. "As a capital Washington is unique. It was never intended as a business city; its terminal facilities are not so good as those even of Alexandria, and it can never be a manufacturing city. It may readily be seen that the amount of money that can be raised by taxation in such a place is limited, and after the government had put up its public buildings that was all that Washington had to develop itself with until the organic act of 1868. This instituted the present form of government and made it a law that after the current expenses and debts of the district had been paid out of the taxes raised a sum equal to the net balance should be added to the latter by congress for improvements. It is a fact that the country at large is beginning to feel that it has a stake in the development of the national capital and that in contributing as it does the government is doing no more than it should.

"Washington is the one city in the country where there is no graft. Every dollar spent has to be appropriated by congress, and the city is economically run. Not having any city council makes a great saving in expenses."

A MILE PERPENDICULAR.

Many years ago, soon after Joaquin Miller had settled in his present home, "The Heights," I asked him where he lived. His reply came promptly: "Three miles east, one perpendicular!" In that expression you have a graphic, symbolic statement of Joaquin's mental habitat. He lives nearer the rising sun than most people and his normal dwelling place is "a mile perpendicular." His nest is on "The Heights," his eye far seeing, blue, prophetic, keen, kind; and his soul attuned, when he sings, to the harmony of the spheres.—George Wharton James in National Magazine.

A LITTLE DANDERINE WILL MAKE YOUR HAIR LUSTROUS, SOFT, FLUFFY, ABUNDANT

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

If you Wish to Double the Beauty of your Hair in Ten Minutes surely Try a Danderine Hair Cleanse

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Try as you will, after one application of Danderine you cannot find any dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will never itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair sprouting all over the scalp. Danderine makes the hair grow long, heavy and luxuriant and we can prove it. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

WHERE THE TROUBLE LAY.

"James," said his mother, "you eat and eat, and never seem satisfied. Here is one more helping of pudding, but it must be the last."

James started on the pudding with delight.

"Once upon a time, James," went on his mother, "there was a little boy who ate and ate until one day he ate too much pudding, and he burst."

"There ain't such a thing as too much pudding!" grunted Jimmy, as he finished his helping.

"There must be," said the mother, "or why did the little boy burst?"

"Not enough boy!" replied James, and handed up his plate for a fifth helping.—The Sketch.

PLEA FOR FUNDS FOR CANAL WORK

P. A. Randall Asks Contributions to Assist Local Campaign.

SETS OUT ITS NEEDS

Funds are badly needed to carry on the work in behalf of the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal, and in a letter just issued by P. A. Randall, president of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago Waterways association, the people of Fort Wayne and Allen county are asked to come to the rescue of the work financially.

Mr. Randall sets forth the vast work that has already been done in enlisting governmental interest in the project. He cites the fact that the preliminary survey has already been made by Col. John Millis, of Cleveland, and Col. George A. Zinn, of Chicago, and says he is assured that both these engineers have reported favorably upon the canal, both as to its feasibility and practicability. "They have both recommended, as strongly as they can," says Mr. Randall, "that a permanent survey shall be made." Attention is then called to the early coming of the national waterways commission and the bureau of engineers to Fort Wayne to verify the reports of the army engineers.

Should Push Forward.

Continuing, Mr. Randall's letter is as follows:

"Inasmuch as the first movement for this canal started in Fort Wayne, with the organization of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago Waterways association, and all the agitation and education has been by this association—we should take particular pride in what has been thus far done, and should be encouraged to push forward till it is an accomplished fact. We must not abate in the least our enthusiasm. We can have the canal if we will.

"The canal will make Fort Wayne the greatest and most important city in the state. It will add a century's growth to our city, in less than five years, after its construction. It will add beauty to our rivers. It will, if properly constructed, furnish water power enough to turn every wheel and spindle in Fort Wayne. There is nothing that anyone can think of that will add so much to the importance of Fort Wayne, commercially, and in every other way as the construction of this canal. The whole matter has progressed so favorably that only a little more effort is needed to make it a reality.

"How shall we do this? It cannot be done by wishing it well and hoping it will come. Money must be had to carry on the work. The local Waterways association must have money to carry on its propaganda. It has spent thousands of dollars, it must spend thousands of dollars more.

"We must also support the national river and harbors congress, for without this great organization, fighting for inland waterways, all of our work would be of no avail. Every man who can should take a membership, for one year, at least, in this organization. It costs for membership, for one year, $5.00 for individuals and $10.00 for partnership.

"If you are interested in doing something for the greatest cause that has ever been presented to our people, do it now. Send a check to Perry A. Randall for $5.00 for the national rivers and harbors congress, and send whatever you can to George W. Beers, treasurer of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago Waterways association, for our local needs. If you cannot take a membership in the national rivers and harbors congress, then send whatever you can to the Fort Wayne association. If it is only a dollar, for the local association, it will be appreciated. If it is more than that, we would be very thankful.

"This is the time when we must all chip in and do something for our canal. Don't lay this letter aside until you have made up your mind to aid the cause."

THE SAVAGE MOUNTAIN ANTS.

Are Fonder of Fighting Than Any Other Creature, Says John Muir.

(From "My First Summer in the Sierras," by John Muir.)

Mastodons and elephants used to live here no great geological time ago, as shown by their bones, often discovered by miners in washing gold gravel. And bears of at least two species, besides the California lion or panther, and wildcats, wolves, foxes, snakes, scorpions, wasps, tarantulas; but one is almost tempted at times to regard a small, savage black ant as the master existence of this vast mountain world.

These fearless, restless, wandering imps, though only about a quarter of an inch long, are fonder of fighting and biting than any beast I know. They attack every living thing about their homes, often without cause as far as I can see. Their bodies are mostly jaws curved like ice hooks and to get work for these weapons seems to be their chief aim and pleasure.

Most of their colonies are established in living oaks somewhat decayed or hollowed, in which they can conveniently build their cells. These are chosen probably because of their strength as opposed to the attacks of animals and storms. They work both day and night, creep into dark caves, climb the highest trees, wander and hunt through cool ravines as well as on hot, unshaded ridges, and extend their highways and byways over everything but water and sky. From the foothills to a mile above the level of the sea nothing can stir without their knowledge; and alarms are spread in an incredibly short time, without any howl or cry that we can hear.

I can't understand the need of their ferocious courage; there seems to be no common sense in it. Sometimes, no doubt, they fight in defense of their homes, but they fight anywhere and always wherever they can find anything to bite. As soon as the vulnerable spot is discovered on man or beast, they stand on their heads and sink their jaws, and though torn limb from limb, they will yet hold on and die biting deeper.

When I contemplate this fierce creature, so widely distributed and strongly intrenched, I see that much remains to be done ere the world is brought under the rules of universal peace and love.

Speaking at a church bazaar at Llandudno the rector announced that it had been decided to place a memorial in the new church on the west shore to the late Lewis Carroll (Charles Lutwidge Dodgson), the author of "Alice in Wonderland." NEBRASKA WILL ORGANIZE NEXT Preliminary Steps Taken for Civic Improvement Association.

WHAT SITUATION IS

Residents of the Nebraska section of the city lying west of St. Mary's river took initial steps toward the organization of a civic improvement association at a meeting held Thursday evening at the clubhouse of the Wayne Knitting mills. Arrangements were made for calling a mass meeting in the near future at which the actual organization will be accomplished.

The meeting adopted resolutions setting forth conditions as they now exist and emphasizing the need for improvement, citing especially the need of a subway beneath the Nickel Plate and Lake Erie tracks to connect Nebraska with the western part of Bloomingdale, the opening of additional north and south streets in the latter section and the elimination of sewage from the St. Mary's river and the beautification of its banks.

T .F. Thieme presided as chairman of the meeting and brief talks by C. H. Worden, president, and R. B. Hanna, secretary, of the Civic Improvement association, preceded the discussion and the adoption of resolutions as follows:

Street Under Nickel Plate.

"That part of Fort Wayne known as 'Nebraska' is separated from the west end of that section of the city known as 'Bloomingdale' by the switching yards of the N. Y., C. & St. L. R. R. and the tracks of the L. S. & M. S. R. R. Said yards consist of thirteen tracks and there is no street leading across them for a distance of 3,400 feet in length. On the south side of said tracks a number of large factories are located at which a great many people work who live on the north side thereof; the public school of this neighborhood is located on the south side, while a large number of children who attend said school live on the north side; the retail business district of this neighborhood is situated on the south side, while a great many of the customers of said business houses live on the north side. The travel back and forth across said tracks is therefore constant and necessary. The people live on one side and work on the other side; live on one side and go to school and to church on the other side; live on one saide and transact business on the other side of said tracks. To reach the Main street car line the people living in Bloomingdale must cross these tracks. In the opinion of those present here tonight, it is imperative that subways be built under said tracks at the earliest date practicable, to the end that the delay and inconvenience, as well as the danger to life and limb, incident to walking across said tracks may be removed, and that the railway company may have the free and uninterrupted use of its switching yards without fear of being morally responsible for the death of those who must of necessity trespass upon the right-of-way of said railway company. There is no way provided to drive across said tracks between Van Buren street and Runnion avenue, which are distant from one another, 4,300 feet.

More North and South Streets.

"In a part of the territory in the west end of Bloomingdale, like in a portion of it lying more to the east, the north and south streets are entirely too far apart. The east end of Bloomingdale is the older and more thickly settled part of that section of the city, and the people living there are realizing more and more each day the inconvenience resulting from inadequate street facilities. For example: A man living on Barthold street, who wishes to go to a point directly south and across the river, must first go four blocks west and then back east practically the same distance to reach the St. Mary's bridge, which is located almost due south of Barthold street. A similar condition will exist in the west end of Bloomingdale unless steps are taken to open more north and south streets before that part of the city is entirely built up and the cost of opening such streets is thereby made prohibitive. The block in the east end of Bloomingdale running from Wells street to Barthold street, without being divided by a north and south street, is 1,340 feet long; the block in the west end of Bloomingdale, running from St. Mary's avenue to Schilling street, with no north and south street between, is 1,580 feet long. It may be that at the time the additions to Fort Wayne containing these and similar long blocks were laid out, that the present north and south streets were sufficient in number, but houses are now rapidly being built in the north end of Bloomingdale and they will be built in still greater numbers when the proper subway connections are made with West Main street. Therefore, it is important that more north and south streets should be immediately opened.

Need Approach to Subway.

"There is no street leading north from the north end of the proposed sub-way at Osage street; Burgess street runs into the east bank of the right-of-way of the L. S. & M. S. R. R., but there is no connection to right-of-way or the N. Y. C. & S. L. R. R. If a factory should be built on the south side and at the west end of Burgess street there would be no way for a person living on Windom, Burgess, DeGroff, Breck, Basin, Sherman or Frederick streets, or St. Mary's, Pape and Franklin avenues, south of the tracks of the L. S. & M. S. R. R. to get under the tracks of the Nickel Plate road without first going north over the tracks of the L. S. & M. S. R. R., and then coming back south through the proposed subway under the tracks of both said railroads. The place in question is a good location for a factory and it would seem that there should be no delay in securing the proper approach to the proposed sub-way at Osage street from Burgess street. As a matter of fact I have been advised by the secretary of the Commercial club of Fort Wayne that this property is now under consideration for factory purposes.

St. Mary's River Conditions.

The St. Mary's river, which runs through the Fifth ward as it also does through the Third, Second, Fourth, Sixth and Ninth wards, was at one time a beautiful stream, but today it is nothing more nor less than an open sewer; the intercepting sewer, on the south side of the St. Mary's river, which was built at a cost of $162,000 to carry the sewage east of the city, was opened several years ago at a point just west of the West Main street bridge, and ever since that time has been emptying its disease-breeding filth into the St. Mary's river at that point, until an accumulation of sewage to the depth of four feet is now lying in the bottom of the St. Mary's river for a considerable distance down stream. The sewage from the manufacturing institutions and private dwellings located in parts of Nebraska should not longer be permitted to run into the St. Mary's river as it does today. Ample sewers should be provided for these institutions and private dwellings and the present sewage system of Nebraska made more efficient. In fact all sewage throughout the entire city should be eliminated from the rivers, and the rivers and their banks should be beautified from one end of the town to the other and made to serve the people of Fort Wayne as their largest and most attractive park; easily accessible to all and offering boating, fishing, swimming, skating and other healthful exercises which are now denied the people of Fort Wayne.

"Many other needed improvements might be set forth in this resolution, but a sufficient number of them have been mentioned herein to justify the people of the Fifth ward in organizing a Neighborhood Improvement association. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that a Neighborhood Improvement association should be organized by the residents of the Fifth ward and that the chairman of this meeting be and he is hereby empowered to appoint a committee on permanent organization, which committee shall report at a more general meeting to be held at the call of the chairman of said committee."

JUSTICE IS REPRIEVED.

Columbus, O., Oct. 5.—Penitentiary officials declared it as their opinion today that the fire which was started in the prison laundry just above the large dynamo which furnishes current to the electric chair, was started by convict friends of Charles Justice, the Greene county murderer, to prevent his electrocution tonight.

Justice was given a reprieve by Governor Harmon this afternoon until October 27.

PORTUGAL IS TRANQUIL.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—Perfect tranquility prevails at the capital on this, the first anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Manuel and the day which, according to recent reports, had been set for a monarchical uprising in the north. The declaration from English sources that the monarchists occupy northern Portugal are without the least foundation in fact, according to the government.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 6.—Reports of frost in the Argentine put a little strength today into the market for wheat. Another bullish influence was the fact that rains were quite general in the American northwest. December started at 98¼c to 98⅜c, a sixteenth to ⅛@¼c higher, fell back to 98⅛c, and rallied to 98¾c.

Selling out by longs led to weakness in corn. December opened at 65c to 65⅛c and then sagged to 64⅛@64⅝c.

Oats though firmer at the outset were dragged down by corn. December started a shade up to 48⅛c, but descended to 47⅞c.

Hog products improved on account of a rising tendency at the yards. First sales were unchanged to 5c higher, with January deliveries $15.15 to $15.20 for pork, $8.90 to $8.90@8.92½ for lard and $7.95 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 6.—Some heaviness was shown at the opening of today's stock market, particularly in such active issues as Union Pacific and Reading, which made substantial declines. Western Union, St. Paul, United States Steel and American Tobacco preferred also opened under yesterday's closing prices. United States Rubber common, which yesterday declared its first dividend in eleven years, made a maximum advance of 1% and the first preferred stock was up ½. American Tobacco 6 per cent bonds gained a point on large transactions.

The list stiffened all around soon after the opening, initial losses giving way to substantial gains. The Hill stocks were the leaders in the movement. The rise invited short selling with consequent recessions. American Smelting and Amalgamated Copper were especially heavy.

The market suffered a severe setback in the second hour following the publication of a speech in Idaho by President Taft, who made vigorous reply to criticisms recently leveled against the supreme court and again declared prosecution against illegal combinations would continue. Other unfavorable factors which perhaps helped the decline included the indictment of the principals in the so-called wallpaper trust and further evidence that an earnest fight is to be made against the American Tobacco dissolution plan. Losses of a point or more were made by the speculative favorites.

The market fell into utter apathy after the decline. Union Pacific, Atchison, United States Steel and Reading advanced a fraction.

FOR SALE REAL ESTATE.

THE AESTHETIC AND THE UTILITARIAN

We are offering an unusually attractive home at No. 1120 Elmwood Ave., in Lakeside, a home of unique features each of which is not only pleasing in effect, but possessing some positive and material advantage. There is a combining of the aesthetic and the utilitarian that cannot fail to please the truly discerning. It is a house of cement plaster with a shingled second story from which flows in graceful lines a pergola roofed porch, a new and striking effect of an open pergola, yet possessing the water tight covering. From this porch of ample dimensions one enters a vestibule and thence into a living room of most pleasing arrangement. With windows upon three sides, its light and ventilation are perfect, while the handsome electric fixtures and mellow tintings of the paper give added attractiveness to the room. It is, indeed, a living room, and the snug dining room is its fitting complement. These rooms and the double stairway are finished in rich cherry, the hardwood floors being of red beech, a combination that is admirable. Upstairs are three bed chambers and a large bath with clothes chute to the laundry in the basement. The bed rooms are equipped with ample closets and are airy, sunny chambers. The house is papered throughout in a pleasing color scheme and is thoroughly homelike in every detail. The kitchen, arranged for convenience and the saving of labor, is complete with cupboard room, refrigerator porch, and modern plumbing. There are hard and soft water in the house and a cemented basement with protected coal bin is a feature that is important. The furnace is a Marshall of the latest design and in the several rooms are hot and cold air registers. It is a house designed to be a home and its location in a peculiarly pleasant neighborhood, convenient at once to business and the public schools, renders it a highly desirable property.

DIME FAILS TO HUSH BOY.

Tells of Man's Attempt to Kiss Mother, Despite Alleged "Bribe."

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 6.—Ten cents for candy failed to hush Ernest Walser, son of Mrs. Maud Walser, of Anderson, Ind., who appeared in a police court case yesterday. The dime was given by C. W. Davis, an automobile dealer, after Ernest had seen Davis attempt to kiss his mother, according to the youthful witness' tale. Mrs. Walser formerly lived at 917 Hamilton avenue, and Davis, according to testimony, was in the house in connection with a trade made with the Walsers when they obtained an automobile from him. The boy said he stepped to the sideboard to comb his hair, when in the mirror he saw Davis grasp his mother. Then the dime was forthcoming from Davis, he said. The boy's mother supported his testimony, asserting she freed herself from Davis' grasp after a struggle. Despite Davis' denials, Special Judge T. J. Moll fined him $1 and costs.

MONARCH Building & Loan Association OF GARY, INDIANA

625 Washington Street Capital Stock $2,000,000

There is no place on earth where the first mortgage security is better than in Gary, Ind.; where the investor obtains through this Association from 15 to 16 per cent. yearly, dividends, payable quarterly, which borrowers can afford to pay and still own their own homes within a little over seven years for less than what otherwise would be paid for rent, a condition that prevails in no other city in this Union. Five years ago Gary had a population of 47, today it has over 30,000, and from 10 to 15 years hence it will be over 500,000. The reason for this is plain.

The United States Steel Corporation has invested over $156,000,000 in building its Steel Mills, covering the lake front for nine miles in distance, and is still expending several million dollars each month.

GARY IS THE ONLY CITY IN THE WORLD THAT WAS EVER FOUNDED WITH SUCH FINANCIAL BACKING.

Owing to the influx of new workmen required to operate these mills as built and enlarged, there is a shortage of not less than 3,000 houses to supply immediate necessities and the result is that rentals are quite 50 per cent. higher than Chicago.

To meet this deficiency, its board of directors, CONSISTING PRINCIPALLY OF BANKERS AND BANK DIRECTORS, have undertaken to enlist outside capital to invest $2,500,000 annually, in the erection of new homes, secured by first mortgages on BUILDINGS ERECTED BY IT AT ACTUAL FIRST COST. Investments confined to Gary and adjacent cities of Lake County.

"FULLY PREPAID STOCK WILL BE SOLD IN SUMS TO SUIT THE PURCHASER."

SMALL SAVERS OF MONEY MAY INVEST THEIR SAVINGS WEEKLY OR MONTHLY AND DRAW THE SAME PERCENTAGE OF DIVIDENDS AS LARGE INVESTORS. INTEREST IN BOTH CASES COMMENCING THE DATE OF PAYMENT.

All monies invested, together with all dividends declared thereon can be withdrawn on practically a moment's notice. Building and Loan Associations are the only class of Financial Institutions that afford first mortgage real estate security, giving this advantage.

Its loan books are open at all times for the inspection of all parties in interest. Interest and premium at 17% has been established by outstanding bids and inasmuch as its expenses are limited to substantially 1%, the investor and saver may expect to realize from 15 to 16%, payable quarterly from July, 1912.

Under the new laws of Indiana, every officer or agent handling its funds are obliged to give surety bonds. Its depositaries also give bonds. It is also subject to examination by the State Auditor on the same basis as State banks, THEREFORE A LOSS OF FUNDS INVESTED IS NEXT TO IMPOSSIBLE.

It refers, by permission, to First National Bank and South Side Trust & Savings Bank, both of Gary, as to its integrity and responsibility.

The deer are probably the safest crop in Scotland. Oats may perish and never ripen by reason of too early frosts and long continued wet. Grouse may have disease and cease to count on any moor for several years. Sheep are generally voted of less value than grouse, but deer are very rarely affected by the seasons in such a way as to touch the sport and the letting value of forests.—Illustrated Sporting News.
